Dedication

"The house of education must be built on a firm foundation."

One who has helped greatly in establishing that foundation of the many students of Upper Arlington High School is Miss Mabel Wurster, our first grade teacher.

We, the class of 1955, dedicate this book to Miss Wurster in deepest appreciation for her untiring interest and efforts in our behalf.

Because of her patience, understanding, dignity, and humility Miss Wurster has become a symbol of all those teachers who have made similar worthy contributions to our education. In her, we find those qualities which exemplify the ideal teacher.

Hands

Course, calloused hands of the manual labore.
Striving to better our world.
Strong, supple hands of the eminent surgeon
Striving to make man whole.

Hands covered with earth from tilling the soil;
Hands of a child holding those of his kin;
Hands ready to pray or ready to play;
Hands represent lives, all doing their share.

Hands are in the East;
Hands are in the West;
In one they are forced into slavery and despair;
But here they are free to think and to act.

Seniors

Seniors

One of the many outstanding events of the year was Homecoming with Jeanne Shaffer reigning as queen and Marty Clark, Tammy Milburn, Judy Beck, and Linda Gatewood as members of her court.

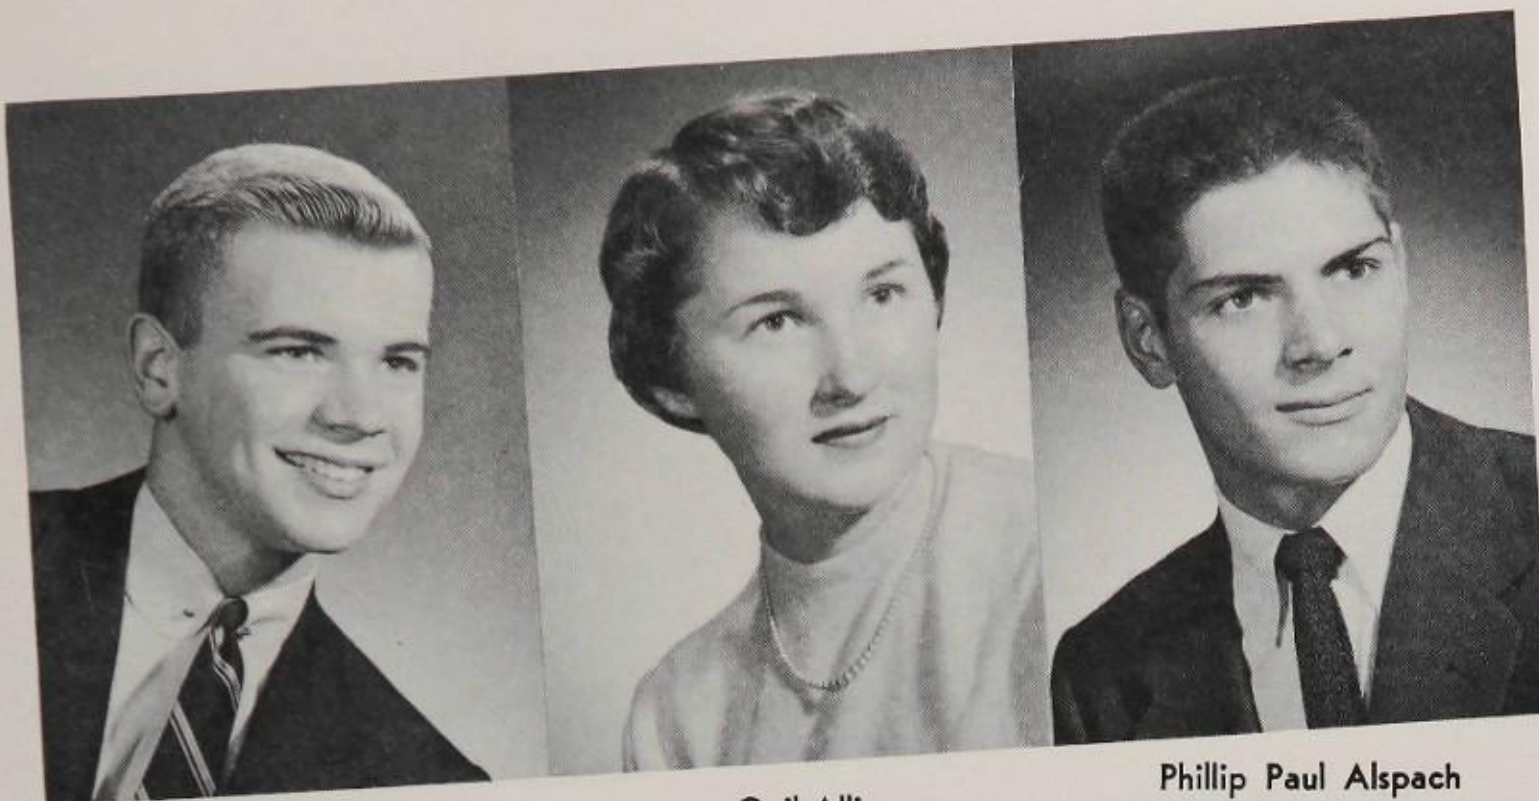

From this time until December 5 all the seniors could be seen making hurried trips to the library and hastily consulting their typing manuals. Term papers occupied a great deal of time and when the fateful day arrived, the seniors turned in their masterpieces with mixed feelings — glad to have the project completed, but fearful of the final outcome.

Senior Day, the class picnic, and Baccalaureate were all never-to-be-forgotten experiences leading up to commencement exercises which climaxed an eventful year for the class of 1955.

The class of 1955 left behind a year well-worth remembering. As the oldest class in the school, its members were faced with new responsibilities.

Led by officers Jim Sipp, president; Kim Kelsik, vice-president; Betsy Schwartz, secretary; and Dave Fergus, treasurer, the senior class was confronted with the task of financing the Norwester. Along with bake sales, rummage sales, basketball concessions, and coat checks, the Boosters' Club Drive proved most profitable. By soliciting members for this club, the senior class received one-fourth of the dues paid by the newly acquired Boosters' Club members.

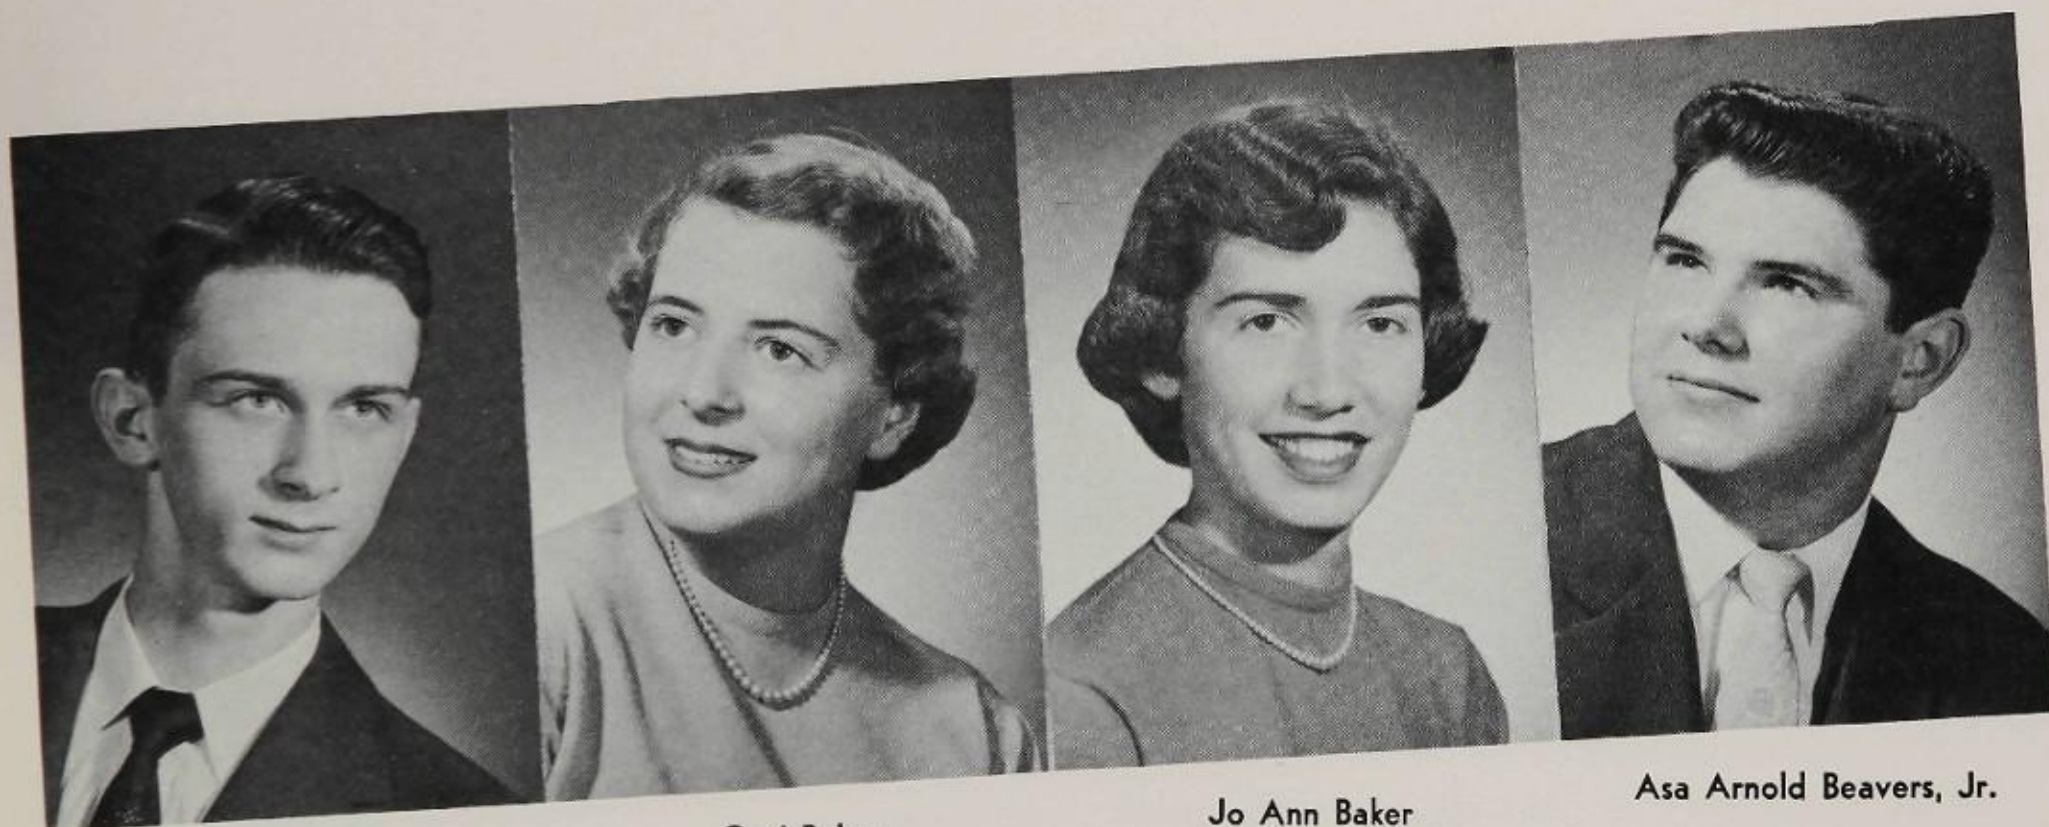

Showing typical daring, a group of senior boys appeared one October morning in Bermuda shorts and knee socks. But to the disappointment of the rebels, their attire was not wholeheartedly approved.

History of The Class of 1955

Bravely, or at least a few of us were brave,—children reluctantly bade goodbye to their parents on a September day in 1942. Summoning all the height and courage of our five years, we nonchalantly strolled into the greatest adventure of our lives. Those who have weathered the storm for thirteen years and have paved the way for our fellow classmates to follow are Sue Humphreys, Chuck Greene, Sue Daugherty, Susie Roberts, Dick Zimmer, Phyllis Shirkey, Mary Snyder, Jo Ann Baker, Tammy Milburn, Jack Kyle, Gavin Larrimer, Alan Teegardin, Marilyn MacEwan, Dave Root, Jim Sipp, Sue Schoedinger, Barb Young, Virginia Harrison, Don Fulmer, Carol Bowyer, Jane Workman, Jon Pettegrew, Sara Pentz, Mary K. Jann, Sue Schmidt, Joel Pettegrew, Judy Beck, Roger Riviere, Jack Prior, Jim Montgomery, Ralph Setterlin, Don Shoemaker, Carrene Handley, Sue Miller, Carolyn Renshaw, Lisa Von Haam, Sue Williams, Dave Fergus, Dave Guthrie, Patty Esper, Ronnie Franks, Bev Morris and Dave Glander.

First grade found us considering 100 as infinity; Miss Wurster's bell became as familiar as reciting the ABC's.

In the second grade we proudly presented our musical production of "The Little Shoemaker." Some of the familiar sights of this year were Albert, the janitor, the towering jungle gym, and solitary confinement in the workroom.

Sweepers, angle worms on toast, and guinea pigs occupied our time in the third grade. Where the other two guinea pigs came from was the mystery of the year.

We had a change of environment in the fourth grade when we excitedly moved to the northern end of the high school building. The gentle game, tackle blackman, took the place of the slides and teetertotters. Our musical ability was tested when we took up the art of playing the song flute.

The fifth grade found Miss Rickett's tolerance of the little angels stretched to the breaking point—"a pane of glass." Our musical careers were further enhanced by our production of "The Circus."

In the sixth grade our recess periods were taken over by the vigorous exercise of baseball, led by the power houses of the grade: Don, Chip, Ralph, Chuck, and "Toots." Mrs. Workman's class was serenaded by Mr. Faulhaber's scintillating songs on his trombone. The biggest blunder of the year was the time Jack Prior pulled the chair from under Mrs. Workman.

As we entered junior high, reading, writing, and arithmetic were displaced by the more enjoyable spreads, pep-rallies, slumber parties, sports, and canteens. Mr. Campbell's familiar phrase, "girls' choice," found the boys running to the nearest corner and all the girls blushing. But we all had to take the bitter with the sweet—exams!

The wonderful smell (?) of burned cake and scorched cookies was nothing to be alarmed about, it was just the boys in Chef's Club trying to take over the woman's place as cook. Judy B., Judy S., Lisa, Carrene, Jane, and Tammy led cheers to arouse the enthusiasm needed to urge on our eighth grade teams. Lipstick vied with sports as the most important topic of conversation as our junior high school years silently ushered into the past.

Freshmen! To think that we were now actually in high school. There were many new fields to hold our interest. Our social duties, decorating for dances and entertaining for the pep rallies, were as important to us as our academic duties. Homework—which included our introduction to four years of Poor William's (Shakespeare, that is) Almanac—was heavier than ever, but we loved every minute of it since it was a sign of becoming more adult. This year we were ably led by Phil Markwood, president; Jim Owens, vice-president; Judy Behmer, secretary; and Bob Garwick, treasurer. Marty Clark reigned as Track Queen in the spring.

Our sophomore year came upon us before we knew it with Kim Kelsik as our president; Dave Fergus, vice-president; Betsy Schwartz, secretary; and Bob Dunlap, treasurer, leading us faithfully in many money-making projects. The biggest event of this year was our "Valentine Ball." Phyllis Shirkey represented our class as Track Queen, and Betsy, Carrene, and Phyllis were chosen to be our cheerleaders.

With Betsy and Phil serving as co-chairmen of our Junior-Senior, we produced a magnificent dance entitled "Prelude to Paradise." Although our beautiful courtyard was flooded, everyone enjoyed our Paradise very much. This year found us with Pres Harris, president; Dick Turner, vice-president; Jim Sipp, secretary; and Dave Fergus, treasurer, as our all-male cast leaders.

Money! Money is what we needed, so with the selling of concessions at the football games plus many bake sales and paper drives, our treasury slowly, but surely, began to increase. Our history pageant, "Manifest Destiny," was a great deal of work for Mr. Miller and a lot of fun for us. As we had so many qualified leaders, the campaign for the student council presidency was hard work for all concerned. Bob Garwick, Dave Fergus, Jim Sipp, and Phil Markwood were all backed enthusiastically, but since only one could be the winner, the honor went to Phil. Our successful school year ended with Linda Gatewood representing our class as Track Queen.

Now as we look back over the dim past at our first few years of schooling, they seem to be full of many enlightening experiences. As we also look forward to the faintly lighted future at all the opportunities for which our training has prepared us, we shall always remember our high-school days as being the happiest years of our lives.

Underclassmen

A successful year was reported by the class of "56" as a fast pace was set in activities of both a serious and social nature.

The coffers of the industrious juniors were bulging with money after this group succeeded in netting $333.03 profit by selling concessions at the Upper Arlington football games. Added to this were the proceeds from bake sales, pennant sales, and a paper drive, all with one aim in view — financing the Junior-Senior Prom.

Seniors were once again left completely in the dark as the juniors began holding secret meetings to plan for the all-important event to be held May 7 in the gym. Early in the school year they elected Sue Newman and Howdy Freeland as co-chairmen of the dance. The other committee heads included Joan Albin, table decoration; Margo Fodor and Linda Dorff, invitations; Carolyn Baker, refreshments; Tom Jones and Joe Berwanger, construction; and Judy Magly and Jane Hollenbeck, general decorations.

The traditional pep rally was presented by the class before the homecoming game, complete with the portrayal of the queen, her court, and the team. To improve further their financial situation, the juniors sponsored several successful dances during the year with the respective themes of "China Town," "Black Magic," and "Santa Land."

All these activities were competently directed by Johnny Joseph, president; Bob McWilliams, vice president; Steve Williams, treasurer; and Sy Sherman, secretary. Mr. James B. Miller served as class adviser.

As is customary with juniors, this busy class took on a more sober mein as responsibility in classes and organizations grew. Members filled many posts in school and in community affairs, readying themselves to step into the shoes of the graduating seniors.

The eager, willing, yet unskilled hands of the sophomores were felt more and more as part of the work and spirit of the school.

Opportunities, though they weren't recognized as such, arose even in the classroom. The study of Julius Caesar, by that great poet from Stratford-On-The-Avon, was finally completed along with the more difficult Latin translations of Caesar's conquests. The advanced, though limited stutterings of French and Spanish, were heard in the halls as students tried to speak the languages. Corollaries and capillaries were discussed in the plane geometry and "bugology" classes respectively. The latter course was particularly interesting to the masculine members when they discovered that girls were scared of worms!

When the sophomores won the Hallowe'en window painting contest, they not only made a financial gain but also won the respect of the upperclassmen. Their pecuniary prospects looked even brighter as a result of sponsoring dances after the Mt. Vernon football game and the Huntington basketball game. Because the members of the class evinced a spirit of real teamwork, their rummage sale was a big success.

Enthusiasm was again demonstrated by the sophomores when their hard-playing athletes participated in all sports. Five skilled basketball players obtained positions on the varsity squad.

Leading their class this year were Mike Fitzgerald, president; Dave Peterson, vice-president; Susie Burt, secretary; and Ed Shaffer, treasurer. Miss Judith Whitney served ably as the class adviser.

Freshmen

Excitement was certainly in the air that bright September morning when the class of 1958 stuck its head in the door of Upper Arlington High School for the first time. That excitement has never died, as many varied events have led "Mr. 1958" up and down the hill of learning. There have been days when real work actually stared him in the face, and days when fun was his only thought. Lipstick and sports were the first in the topic of conversation.

Homework was his biggest problem, when Latin phrases such as "quid est" baffled him, when x^2 plus $2xy$ plus y^2 equals 0 shook him, and when he was driven to the verge of tears by Shakespeare's crazy slang.

There were football and basketball games which "1958" had to attend, not to mention all the upper class activities in which he was allowed to participate. Since he felt so mature and grown up, he almost forgot he had come to school to learn and not to participate in social gatherings.

Planning a very successful dance after the St. Charles football game, "1958" chose the theme "Stardust" because it described so perfectly how he felt in this new life. The success of this inspired him to try another one, this time after the Bexley basketball game, which was equally successful.

With the help of a few of his friends, "1958" won third place in the Hallowe'en window painting contest.

Chosen as leaders through this school year were Dale Wade, president; Ned Crockett, vice-president; Diane Miller, secretary; and Sue Perry, treasurer.

Eighth Grade

After becoming accustomed to the school routine at the beginning of the school year, the eighth grade began its activity early by having a dance on September 24 called "Party Line." Since it proved so successful, they held two more dances the same semester — the "Spook Dance" on Hallowe'en held jointly with the seventh grade and the "Sadie Hawkins Dance" on the fourth of December.

The ever-popular spreads before football games were an integral part of the lives of the eighth graders. Never to be outdone, they also had Junior High Choir roller skating parties, which completed their busy social calendar.

The Junior High Y-Teens, an organization for seventh and eighth grade girls, was headed this year by Corrita Hittson.

Representing the eighth grade in Junior Student Council were Georgia Smith, Sue Rudolph, Jim Gross, Donnie Harrison, Beth Noon, Susie Trimble, and Ralph Lewis.

Led by officers Ralph Lewis, president; Joe Arnold, vice-president; Lynn Hammond, secretary; and Nora Browning, treasurer, the eighth grade was able to complete a successful year and look ahead to high school with confidence.

Seventh Grade

As seventh graders the class of 1960 has begun its high school career in fine fashion this year. It is the largest class in the entire high school, and the team spirit of the members of the class should make the rest of their school days successful ones.

The seventh grade had many social activities this year which included several dances. There were two dancing groups, The Cotillion Club and the Junior Dancing Club. A live orchestra was provided at one of the dances which helped to make it a success. Because of the size of the classes, the seventh and eighth grade dances were held separately this year. At the end of the school year, the annual spring carnival was held.

Since no class officers were elected this year, members of the Junior High Student Council took charge of class affairs. A committee made up of students and teachers planned the social activities.

The junior high football team fared quite well this year, winning two and tying one out of four games. Both seventh and eighth graders composed this team. The basketball team did equally as well, coming out with eight wins and five losses.

Senior Scholarship Team

The Senior Scholarship Team, chosen on the basis of high school scholastic records, was composed of 60 seniors. On Friday morning, January 28, 1955, these seniors took the Senior Scholarship Test. Several weeks later the results were announced and once again Upper Arlington High School was able to be proud of its scholastic achievements. Gary Clark placed third in the county and district, and twenty-third in the state. Dave Fergus placed fourth in the county, fourth in the district, and received honorable mention in the state. Bill Gruebmeier placed seventh in the county, eleventh in the district, and also received honorable mention in the state.

Receiving honorable mention in the county, district, and state were Jim Obert, Bill Lawson, Rick Poffenberger, Phil Markwood, and Dave Guthrie. Bob Garwick received honorable mention in the state and county and placed seventeenth for the boys in the district.

Ten seniors received honorable mention in the county and the district: Sue Hale, Karen Jacobson, Phil Alspach, Bill Daniels, Jim Braden, Jim Azbell, Jim Marcia, Dave Root, Nancy Kupper, and Leila Stroud.

The record of the 1955 Senior Scholarship Team is one which not only arouses pride but also challenges future members of the Senior Scholarship Team.

Membership in National Honor Society is one of the highest honors a student can receive in high school. Each year National Honor Society's chapter of Upper Arlington takes in five per cent of the junior class and ten per cent of the senior class. Membership in National Honor Society is based upon scholarship, leadership, service, and character.

The new members from the junior and senior classes were inducted into the society on April 20, 1955. An evening ceremony took place in the Barrington Building auditorium before parents and friends, with a reception after the initiation.

The club was led throughout the year by Karen Jacobson, president, and Jennybelle Rardin, vice-president. The faculty adviser was Miss Margrett Schultz with Mr. Ellis Lutz assisting.

Membership in Quill and Scroll, the international honorary society for high school journalists, is the highest honor one can achieve in journalistic work. Those eligible for membership must be in the upper-third of their class and have a specified number of column inches of their writing printed in the Arlingtonian, or have done an equivalent amount of work in another phase of journalism. A candidate may then join Quill and Scroll with the approval of the adviser.

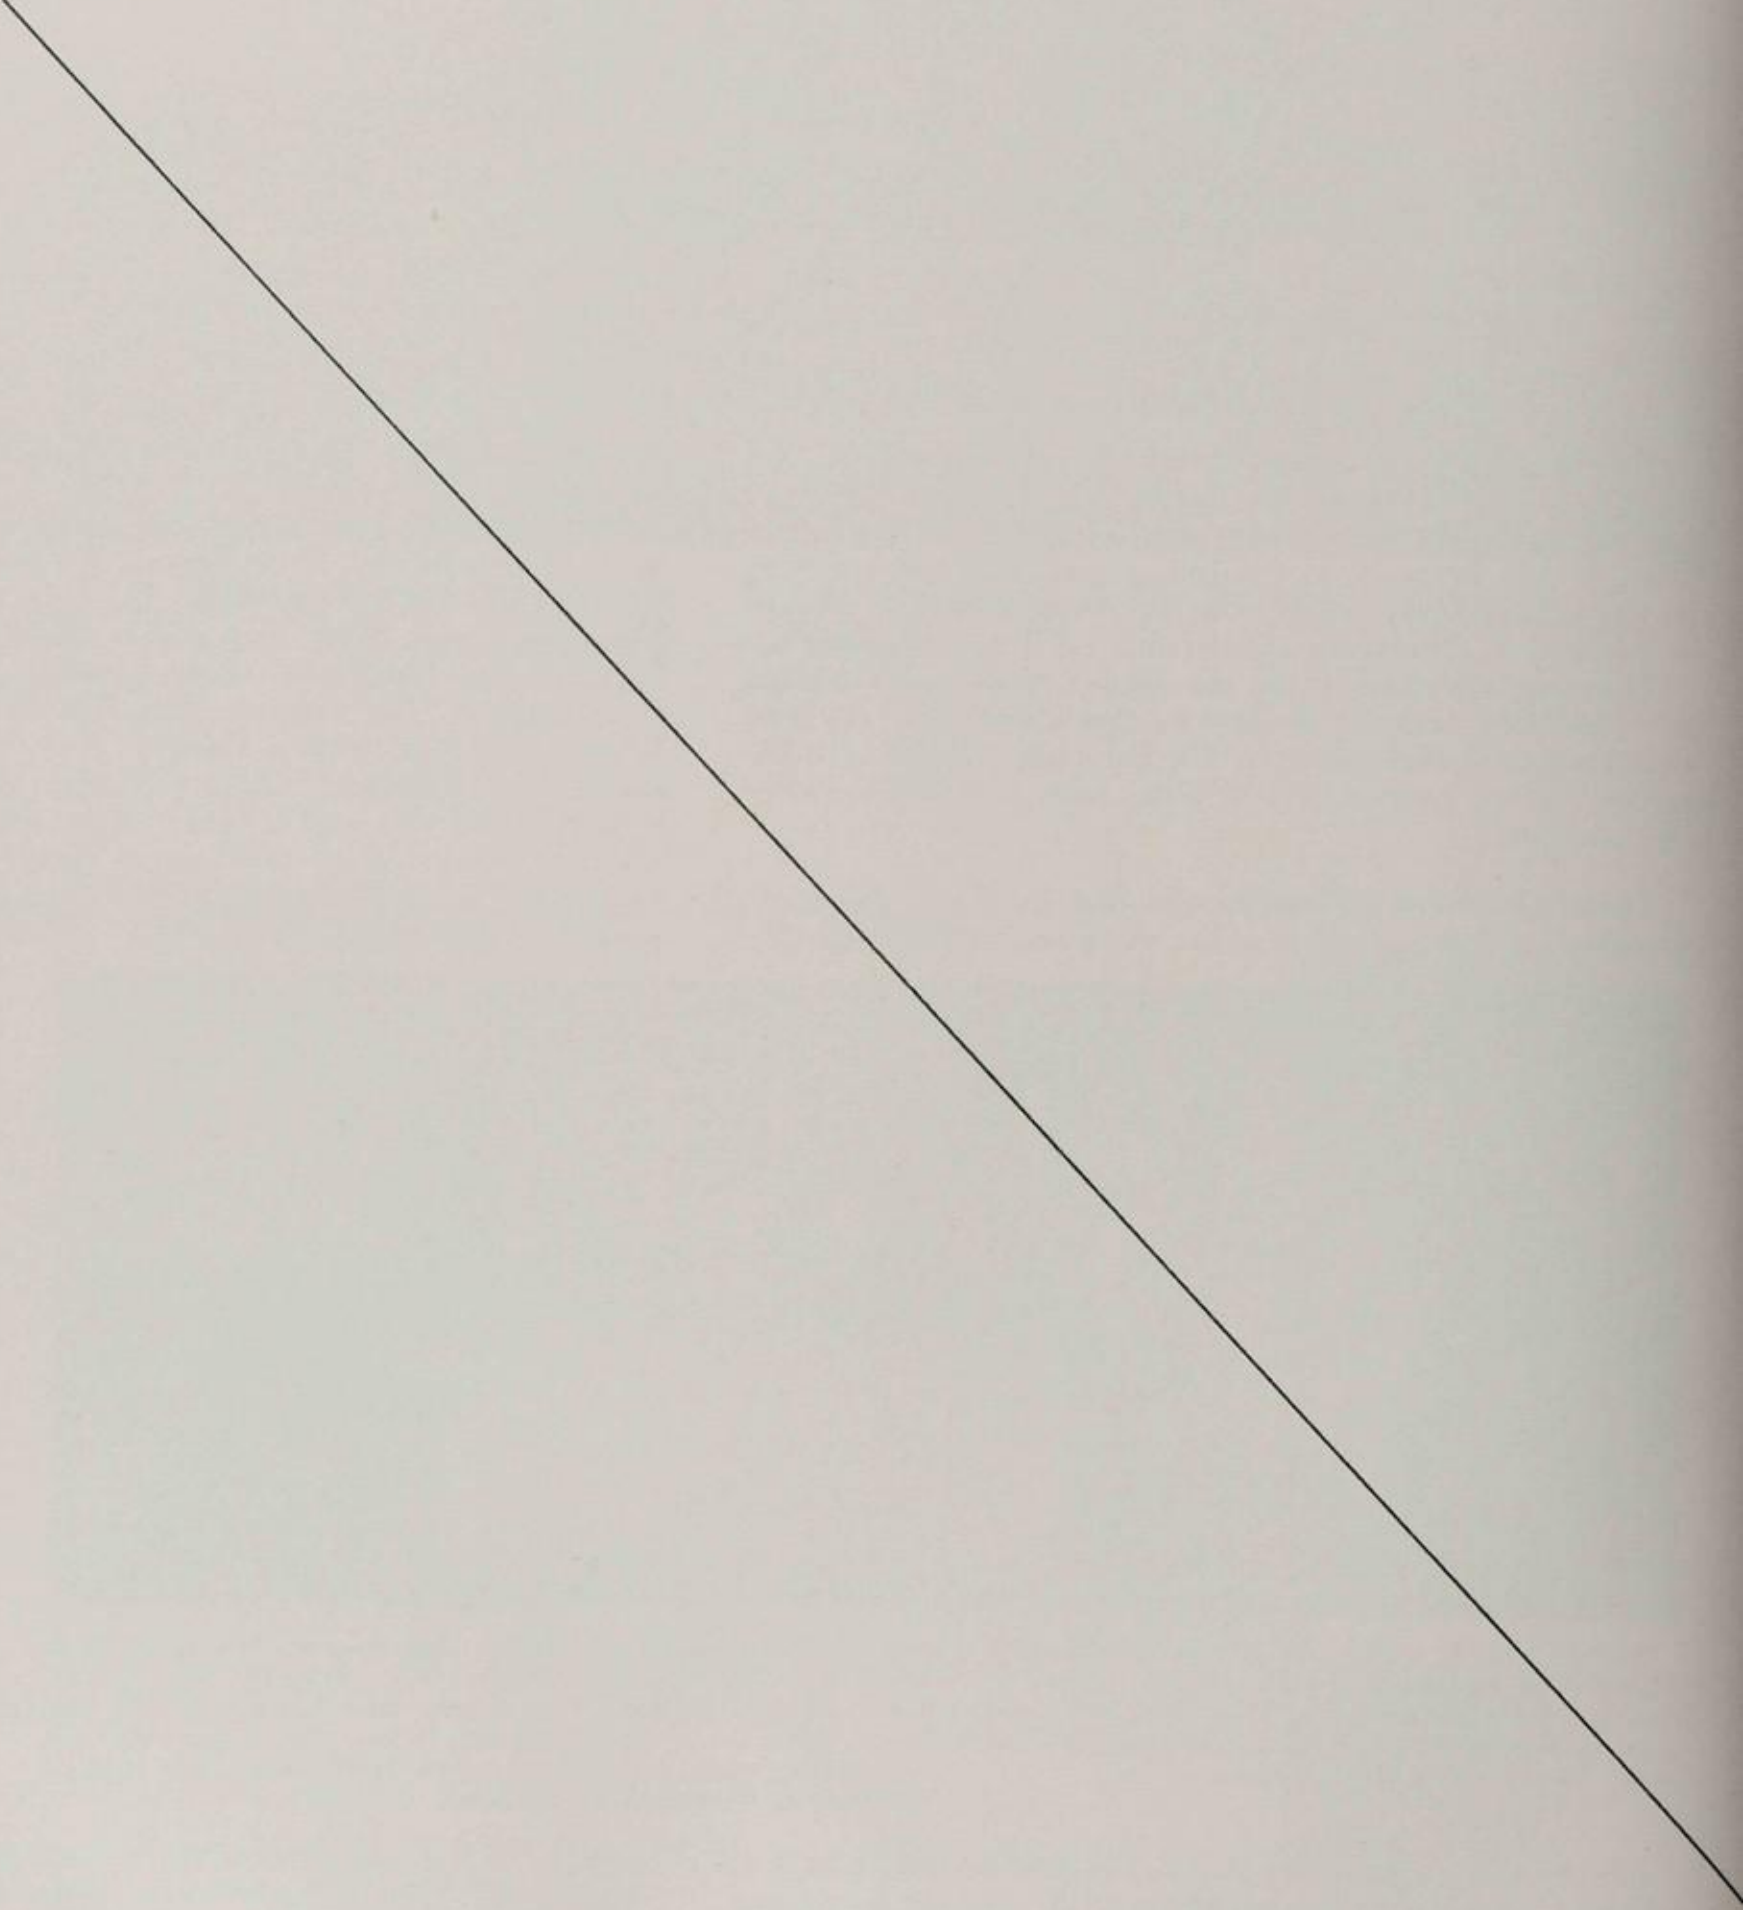

Seventeen new members and two honorary members were initiated into Quill and Scroll, while three received special awards at the annual candlelight induction service held on March 29. The initiation took place in the high school auditorium and was followed by a social hour.

The activities of Quill and Scroll this year included several home meetings to which guest speakers were invited. The city-wide press club in its second year elected their new officers at the banquet held at the Ohio Union.

Through the combined planning of the Arlingtonian staff and Quill and Scroll, the annual picnic, which terminated the year, was held along the Scioto River.

The ARLINGTONIAN, a time-honored tradition at Upper Arlington High School, is published bi-weekly under the patient advisership of Miss G. Ellen Mann, journalism and English teacher. The executive staff, headed this year by Editor Dave Fergus, is mainly comprised of members of last year's journalism class, assisted by students from this year's class.

The ARLINGTONIAN started its annual subscription campaign with an assembly at which Irwin Johnson, the Early Worm of radio fame, was the speaker. The program also included a "worm" which cavorted through the audience with Chip Huhta as the "head" and with Carolyn Renshaw, Sue Williams, and Kathie Ronson completing the annelid.

Jim Sipp, a sports editor, represented the ARLINGTONIAN in the newly organized High School Press Club of Central Ohio as president of the group. Miss Mann was faculty chairman and was instrumental in organizing the club. It is comprised of high school newspaper and yearbook staffs from schools in sixteen Central Ohio counties. Representatives of the ARLINGTONIAN attended the first workshop of the High School Press Club held at Ohio State University December 4. In contests in news writing and features at the workshop, Jane Springsteen and Richard Lee won firsts while Judy Magly won third honors.

The ARLINGTONIAN participated in the state convention of the Journalism Association of Ohio Schools when it convened at the O.S.U. campus in November. Jane Rudolph won third honors in a news writing contest at this convention.

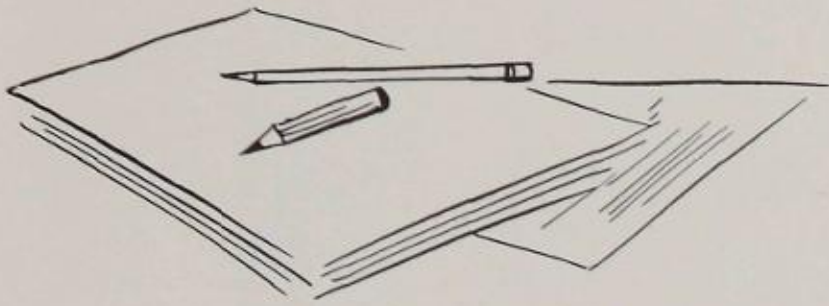

Don Fulmer, a member of the journalism class, headed the photographic department of the publication.

This year, as in years gone by, the members of the ARLINGTONIAN staff interviewed celebrities visiting Columbus. Among these were the Crewcuts, popular recording group, and the elephant Peggy, who co-starred with Esther Williams in a recent motion picture.

This year, as in all years past, the Norwester staff has striven to make its publication the finest yearbook in Arlington's history. The members of the Norwester staff of 1955 present this book with great pride, for they feel that they have achieved their goal of an attractive and well-planned book.

The staff of this year's Norwester was selected last spring by a class executive committee advised by Miss Vera K. Randall. Dave Root was chosen as editor-in-chief and Tammy Milburn was named as associate editor. Art was under the direction of Karen Jacobson and Phil Markwood; Lynda Chapman supervised the literary committee and Jennybelle Rardin was photography editor. Boys' and Girls' sports were under the direction of Jim Marcia and Lisa Von Haam. Sue Daugherty was make-up editor. Betsy Schwartz headed the casual photography committee; business, circulation and advertising committees were under the leadership of Bob Garwick, Dave Guthrie, and Kim Kelsik respectively with Mr. James F. Lambourne acting as financial adviser.

Because of the increased costs of engraving and printing, the Norwester staff had to engage in a variety of financial projects, such as bake sales, paper drives, and collecting sales tax stamps.

But all the work was not without enjoyment; at several of the meetings donuts were brought by staff members. One late meeting even terminated with a pizza party.

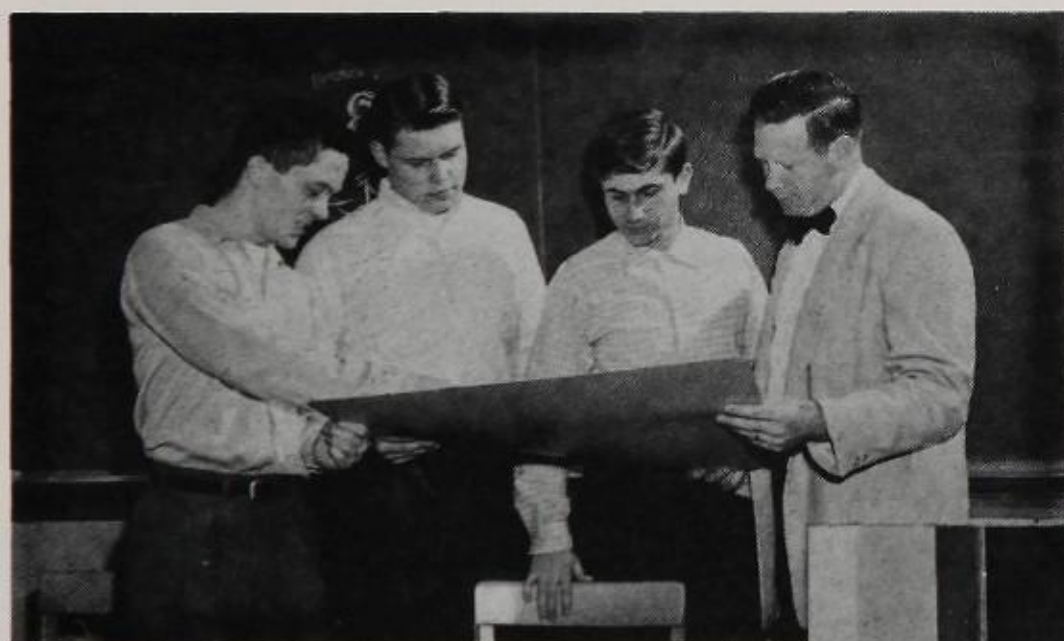

The staff and the class of 1955 join in thanking the advertisers, the committee members of the Norwester, and Mr. Bob Parker, photographer. They are also deeply appreciative of the cooperation of the administration and of the help of their adviser, Miss Randall.

Student Council

Student Council is the students' governing body; school problems and service projects are discussed and completed. Extended to grades ten through twelve, membership is limited to one representative elected from each homeroom section and the presidents of all major organizations. This year the membership totaled thirty-two.

President Phil Markwood was elected in the spring of the preceding year in a school-wide election, and the planks of his platform comprised many of the council's projects. Remaining to be elected last fall within the council itself were Vice-President Alan Ross and Treasurer Bill Lawson, seniors, and Secretary Susie Burt, sophomore. Serving as faculty adviser is Arthur J. McCullough.

Other than the planks of the president's platform which Student Council carries out, the council deals with any new matter that is brought to its attention. A new, up-to-date Student Directory of students' addresses and telephone numbers was printed and sold for $.25; maintained at noons in the halls was a Supply Shop selling paper, pencils, and other school supplies. A standardization of election rules was adopted which involves all individuals chosen by the student body, such as track queen and class presidents.

Career Day, annually sponsored by Student Council, was held May 4. On this day, students received vocational guidance.

Under the supervision of the senior council is the Junior Student Council. For the past year, the officers were president, Bill Millholland; vice-president, Phil Patterson; secretary, Don Harrison; and treasurer, Susie Rudolph. A fairly new organization in its third year is Student Court, a branch of Student Council. The court is not a police force although individual conduct cases are tried; the purpose is to create a respect for the democratic way of life. Jennybelle Rardin presided as chief justice, with Lisa Von Haam as secretary. The other members were Dick Turner, Phil Markwood, Joan Albin, Bob McWilliams, and Mike Fitzgerald.

Assembly Committee

The Assembly Committee, a subsidiary of the Student Council, has been responsible for many of the fine assemblies this year. The 31 members of Assembly Committee were selected from a group who showed an interest in this activity. At the first meeting Judy Beck was appointed chairman. The faculty chairman for this year was Mrs. Wilma Kircher. Other faculty members serving included Miss Joan Jones, Mrs. Jean Guddat, Mrs. Ina Dice, Mrs. Donna Turner, Mr. Lance Shreffler, and Mr. Stephen Nesha.

Throughout the year, the committee receives a varied assortment of advertisements from entertainers who wish to give assemblies. A major job of the committee is to sift through these possibilities and investigate those that appear worthwhile. Another task is the scheduling and initial planning of all programs to be presented during the year. In addition to these basic preparations the committee completes the arrangements for assemblies not sponsored by other clubs or groups.

An innovation during the past year was the establishment of a Junior High Assembly Committee. Members for this group were selected by faculty recommendation.

Because it is important to plan assemblies that are educational as well as entertaining, the Assembly Committee had a hard job this year. However, it has proved itself an important participant in the co-ordination of the various events of the school year.

Leaders' Class

Led by Dick Turner, president, and Miss Margrett Schultz, faculty adviser, Leaders' Class once again ably performed its traditional services to the school, community, and nation. The club is limited to 34 members who are selected by a board of students and faculty on the basis of the following personal qualities: sincerity, co-operation, initiative, dependability, friendliness, tolerance, personal integrity, and service to the school. Their activities range from picking up paper on the mall and washing the sound curtain to aiding families in several foreign countries.

Helping its adopted family with gifts of food, clothing, and furniture was again the main project of the Local Service Committee. Successful as usual was the annual Hallowe'en drive for canned foods, also planned by this group. Transfer students were made welcome at a party each semester given by the Newcomers' Committee. Friendly assistance to the new students was continued throughout the year.

The School Service Group supervised the second annual Leadership Training Program held for the officers and sponsors of school organizations. This group also planned the club paper drive. The activities of the World Service Committee consisted of sending Care packages to its Greek family, contributing money to Meals for Millions, and buying a plow to send to India.

The Children's Party Group gave two parties for underprivileged children and another for an old people's home.

As a tribute to the fine work that Leaders' Class has been doing, the Columbus Dispatch in December ran a full-page feature article describing the organization and its projects.

Le Cercle Francais

The French Club serves as a means for all French students to put to practical use the French which they have learned in the classroom. This activity is as entertaining as it is helpful.

The first semester there were two separate French Clubs. The first was made up of all first-year students. Allan Quigley, Judy Smith, and Carolyn Baker were chosen by this group to take care of all business matters. The second group was made up of all second and third-year students and was led by the following officers: Nancy Munger, president; Parker Bloser, vice-president; Charles Shimp, secretary; and Jeanne-Marie Bernier, treasurer.

The French Club also had a Christmas Program in which all French students participated. The program included the singing of many French Christmas carols, a skit written by the third-year students, a ballet dance by Jane Decker, and musical selections by Nancy Munger and Peggy Kerschensteiner.

One of the highlights of the year was the All-City French Club Party held at the Ohio Union on February 17. French clubs from many high schools in Columbus participated in the presentation of skits and the playing of French games.

Under the guidance of Miss Joan Jones, adviser, Le Cercle Francais had a very active and successful year.

El Dorado

The Spanish Club of Upper Arlington High School started off its activities for this year with the annual Columbus Day Banquet, which was held at the Barrington Road School cafeteria.

Membership is open to all students who have completed one year of Spanish, and throughout the year the members carry out the purpose of promoting a better understanding and appreciation of other nations, especially in regard to the nineteen Spanish-speaking countries.

One of the projects during the year was sending magazines to the embassies of Latin American countries. Another consisted of selling Christmas cards for the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund. The members sold seventy-five dollars' worth of cards, which was enough money to provide milk for 450 children for one week in eighty countries.

The Spanish Club celebrated King's Day, which is the Mexican Christmas, on January 6, 1955. Maria Perez talked about the celebration and members of the club presented plays. The club also had a mate party with cookies and South American tea, which is a favorite in Brazil, Paraguay, Uruguay, Argentina, and Chile.

Other programs and projects of the Spanish Club included having a club song contest, selecting pins, sending Meals for Millions packages, and helping the orphans of South Korea.

Miss Judith Whitney is the club adviser. The officers for the year were president, Nancy Turner; vice-president, Kay Kauer; secretary, June Whitehead; and treasurer, Sally Griffiths.

Y-Teens

Through its activities, Y-Teens, a branch of the Y.W.C.A., promotes fellowship among the girls of the city, giving them an opportunity to be of special service to others. All girls regardless of race, creed or religion may participate in this fine program.

The advisers of the Upper Arlington Y-Teens, Miss Mildred Wagner and Mrs. Mary Jean Guddat, and President Sue Daugherty proudly announce that this is the Centennial year for the Y.W.C.A. In honor of this celebration a Birthday Dinner featuring a style show was given.

This year has been a very busy one for the club because of the many service projects completed. The activities include selling pine cones and giving the profits to World Neighbors, selling candy and baked goods to enlarge the contributions to the Centennial Fund, giving a Christmas party at the Blind School with their Y-Teens, making St. Patrick's Day favors for Children's Hospital, joining together with the Hi-Y in the annual Easter and Thanksgiving chapel services, and sponsoring a very successful semi-formal dance, the Valentine Ball. Some of the girls also participated in the Links project again this year.

At the annual Y-Teens banquet held May 10 in the Barrington Cafeteria, the officers for the year 1955-1956 were announced.

Hi-Y

Throughout the year 1954-55, HI-Y continued to provide fun and worth-while activity for its members. Early in the year the new members from the junior and senior classes were initiated and, together with last-year's juniors, comprised a membership of 87.

Coached by Mr. Lance Shreffler, HI-Y entered two basketball teams in the city-wide HI-Y basketball competition. For the benefit of a worthy cause and the amusement of the student body, the annual HI-Y versus faculty basketball game was played.

The Arlington organization furnished fifty dollars to the Y.M.C.A. World Service Fund and a generous contribution to United Appeals. To raise money for its projects, HI-Y sold programs at all football games. As part of its religious program, HI-Y, together with Y-Teens, conducted the Thanksgiving and Easter assemblies.

Mr. Robert Cavins served as faculty adviser. Officers for the year were Jack Prior, president; Jim Sipp, vice-president; Dave Leiser, secretary; and Jim Obert, treasurer.

Charm Board

Personality, co-operation, leadership and character — these were the qualities for which the nineteen members of the honorary organization, Charm Board, were chosen. Two girls are chosen from grades ten, eleven, and twelve: one, from each home economics class and one from various other honorary organizations. The members of Charm Board try to set an example of service for other girls in the school to follow.

Personal appearance and dating problems were featured, along with skits and an accessories style show, when Charm Board presented a program to the junior high girls early in the school year. A mimeographed newspaper for the junior high was also set up early in the year under the supervision of the Board.

"Winter Lace" was the name of this year's annual Charm Board style show. Sponsored by the House of Fashion, it was presented to an audience of about four hundred on the evening of December 7, 1954.

"The Gold Digger's Dance" was another project of the Charm Board. With kings Jim Marcia, Bob McWilliams, Jim Nicklaus, Jon Berry, and King of Kings, Dick Turner reigning, the affair was held on the twenty-sixth of February.

Jennybelle Rardin as the 1954-1955 Charm Board president led the organization through the year's activities, with Mrs. Betty Robertson's able supervision. The other officers were Tammy Milburn, vice-president; Sue Daugherty, treasurer; Barb Young, secretary; and Sy Sherman, sergeant-at-arms.

Pub Club

The artful members of the well-known Publicity Club combine their talents and ideas to make up the clever posters seen around the halls before the basketball and football games. This is only one of the ways used to increase school spirit and enthusiasm among students for Arlington's sports.

Senior Hall became a festive place on the day of the big Homecoming game. Crepe paper and paper favors adorned the lockers of the football team, the cheerleaders, and the newly chosen queen and her court. Decorating the goal posts with crepe paper was not an easy job, but the results were well worth the effort.

On Dad's Night each proud father wore a number, made by the members of Pub Club, to correspond to the number on his son's football uniform.

At the beginning of the year, around seventy students tried out for Pub Club by making a sample poster for one of the games. Those who were accepted had their posters put up around the halls.

The dance after the St. Charles basketball game was sponsored by the enthusiastic members of Pub Club as one of their many projects.

Hard work, initiative, and an abundant supply of ideas have prevailed throughout the Pub Club in 1954-55. Leading this organization were Sue Williams, president, and Mrs. Donna Turner, adviser.

F. N. A.

The Future Nurses Organization is open to any juniors and seniors who have a genuine interest in nursing. The year's activities were guided by the school nurse, Mrs. Mildred Koch.

Before school resumed in the fall, the members of Future Nurses helped record the weights and heights of the football players. Some of the members worked for one period a day in the nurse's office. A field trip was taken to the Red Cross Blood Center, and a potluck supper was held afterward with the Worthington Future Nurses. Later in the year the members of the group visited the Tuberculosis Center.

In order to acquaint the members with the different phases of nursing, there was a speaker from the Red Cross Blood Center, and also a physical therapist. Three student nurses at Ohio State told about their experiences, and Miss Beatrice Schlang, the Director of Nurses at St. Francis Hospital, explained her duties. This program enabled the members to learn about a different aspect of the nursing profession.

Under the able leadership of Mrs. Koch and Barbara Young, the president, the club fulfilled its purpose of promoting an interest in nursing.

At the close of the school year the officers were elected and announced at the annual picnic. Through the year members not only enjoyed themselves at social functions but also felt satisfied with the work that they had completed.

F. T. A.

One of the most worthwhile high school organizations, at least from the teachers' viewpoint, is Future Teachers of America under the sponsorship of Mrs. Helen Tanner. The purpose of this club for junior and senior girls is to acquaint students with the various aspects of teaching.

Other than their own teaching experiences, the members gained much from listening to others. One speaker was an Ohio State graduate student from Peru who told of teaching differences between Peru and the United States. Dr. Collins Burnett, Director of the Department of Personnel Education, and Mr. William Guthrie, Junior Dean of the Arts College, both from Ohio State University, also spoke to the group. A panel discussion was held with elementary teachers from the Barrington Road School.

During the winter a field trip was arranged at O.S.U. to observe classes in elementary education and to visit campus buildings. At Christmas time F.T.A. gave a party for the homeless children of the Hannah Neil Mission; the Easter season brought Easter baskets to the homes of Arlington students unable to attend classes because of illness.

All is not work, though, and on the social side "Stag Stomp" was held after the Urbana basketball game. F.T.A. members of Worthington and Grandview were guests at the annual spring picnic.

The club officers presided over the last function of the year on May 22 when they announced next year's officers at the traditional Rose Breakfast.

Library Club

One of the most important contributions made by members of the Library Club to the school scene here at Upper Arlington High School is their program by which they seek to acquaint the students of the school with the library and its many facilities. In carrying out this work the club undertakes many projects. In the course of a year, members of the Library Club assist students from the junior high school in using materials in the library. In addition, each club member takes the responsibility for one display on the bulletin board which stands in the hall outside the library. The art department helps with this phase of the club's work. Also, during National Book Week, the Library Club sought to bring the occasion to the attention of the student body by special displays and posters.

Before Christmas the club decorated a tree for the library. At the beginning of the vacation, the club presented the tree to the State School for the Blind.

The members of Library Club gain experience and knowledge of the many details that go into the management of a library by working in the high school library several periods each week.

Library Club was led this year by Joanne Kuenning, president. She was assisted by Vice-president Sue Hale and Secretary Connie Paul. They were further aided by the patient guidance of Miss Bernice Rea, school librarian and adviser.

Camera Club

In an obscure corner on the second floor lies the home of Camera Club. In here the members have at their disposal a complete and professional darkroom. The student photographers can make use of a wide variety of equipment, including press and regular still cameras, an 8-mm movie camera, and a movie projector.

During the past year the club has taken pictures of all the rooms in the elementary buildings, and publicity pictures of school life have been taken for use in the shopping centers.

To join Camera Club one does not have to be an expert photographer, for the old members teach the new members all the tricks of the trade. The club has a small but enthusiastic membership of 15.

Mr. Leon Bowman again served as faculty adviser. Officers were Paul Tucker, president; Charlotte McConnell, secretary; and Jim Azbell, treasurer.

The Debate Team

Resolved: That the Upper Arlington Debate Team enjoyed a successful season. (There is no debating this resolution. The affirmative case is too strong.)

The topic bandied around in Lance Shreffler's debate class this last year was "Resolved: That the federal government should initiate a policy of free trade among nations friendly to the United States." So the members of the Upper Arlington Debate Team did a little involved, industrious research on the pros and cons of tariffs and trade. Research completed, the team sallied forth expectantly to meet such worthy opponents as Columbus East, Port Clinton, and Delaware Willis. One of the team's earliest triumphs was at Port Clinton. There they were undefeated and brought home a trophy which they presented to the school. The nineteen squad members were under the patient and unwavering guidance of Mr. Shreffler, speech and debate teacher.

To support their numerous excursions to various meets held in distant cities, the squad undertook several money-raising projects.

1954-1955 was only the second year that debate has been offered at Upper Arlington High School on an interscholastic level. A one-semester course, it has, in the past, been scheduled only for the first half of the school year. Participants receive one-half credit. However, interscholastic debating goes on from December through spring, so even though the course extends for only one semester, students may be active in debate for most of the school year.

Thespians

This year's Thespians Troop number 332 succeeded in bringing to its high school and community a year filled with grand entertainment. Not only were there dramatic productions, but also parties, dances, and serious events.

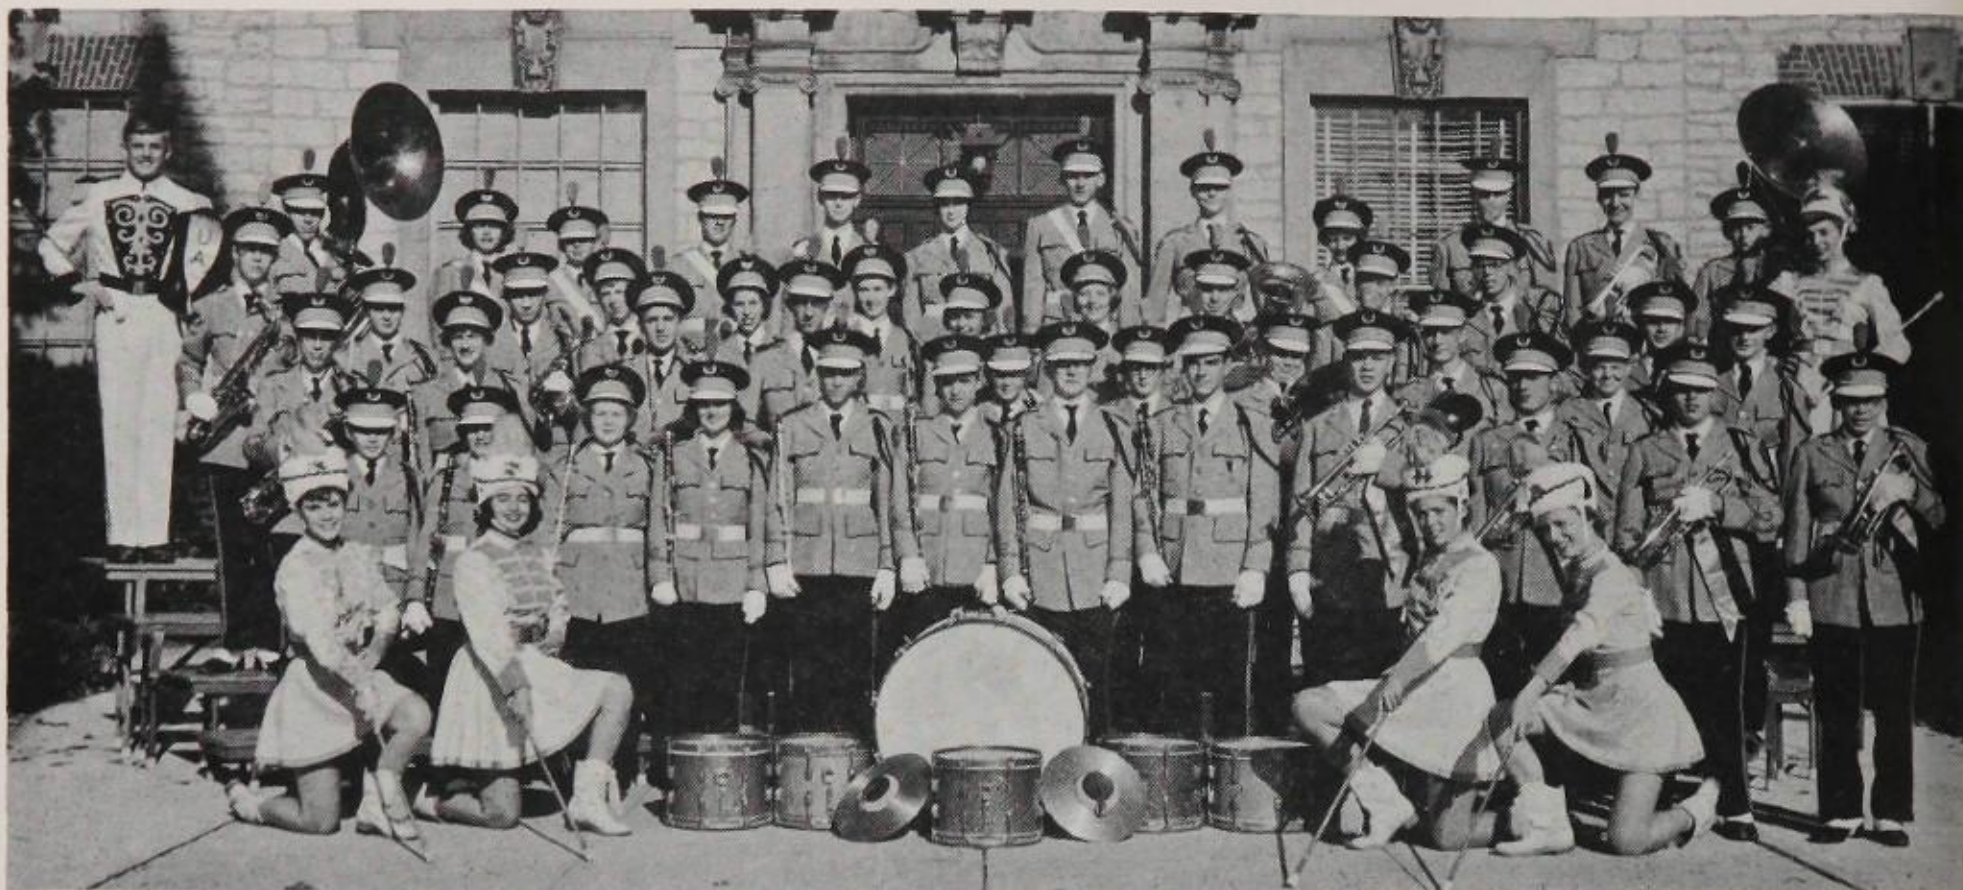

On the evening of November 9, 1954, the members of Dramatics Club and Thespians produced "Night", which was a collection of three one-act plays. They were entitled "Call Meridain 7-1212", "Going Home", and "To The Lovely Margaret". Under the able direction of Mr. Lance Shreffler and with the co-operation and talent of everybody concerned, the plays turned out to be great successes.

A masquerade ball called "Mardi Gras" was presented for the school on December 11, 1954, with a name band and appropriate decorations. The members of Thespians and Dramatics Club hope that it will become an annual affair, for they found it a truly wonderful success.

Each student who wished to become a member of the Thespian Troop obtained ten points by participating in any field of the play productions. Those who could not be in the cast had a choice of selling tickets, painting posters, or working on the stage crew.

Mr. Lance Shreffler was the faculty adviser of the Thespians Troop and Dramatics Club. This year's Thespians Troop consisted of approximately twenty members. Jack Prior, Chip Huhta, Patt Ross, and Jean Davidson held the offices respectively of president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer.

Marching Band

"The drums go bang, the cymbals clang, and the horns they blaze away" This bit of lyric from the song, "MacNamara's Band," is certainly fitting in describing the "blaze" of glory in which the Marching Band appeared this year. As usual, the band presented eight fine performances at the fall season football games. The most outstanding of these shows was a half-time spectacle in honor of United Nations day. This extravaganza depicted the various member nations of the U.N. and their contributions to society.

The band was led "out front" by Ronnie Franks, head drum major; Roger Heering, twirling drum major; Judy Beck, head majorette; and Sara Pentz, Barbara Salsinger, Sue Humphreys, and Bonnie Huck, majorettes.

Pre-season activities for the band included the band camp at Hilliards Fairgrounds and participation in the Franklin County Fair Band Contest. It was at this contest that the band received the first of many favorable comments which followed it all year.

Two recreational projects enjoyed both by band members and high school students were a square dance at Cubbage Corners and a skating party at Smith's Roller Rink.

By far the most outstanding honor to come to the band was an invitation from Washington, D.C., to play at the annual Cherry Blossom Festival. This invitation was accepted and the band performed in the Nation's capital, thus representing Arlington at one of this country's most famous festivals.

High spots on the band's concert agenda included a performance at Tremont Elementary School, a Christmas presentation for the P.T.A., and the final touch to a most successful year, the annual Spring Concert.

Judy Beck, head drum majorette; Ronnie Franks, head drum major; Roger Heering, head twirling drum major.

Instrumental Music

Under the expert batons of Mr. Robert B. Hightshoe and Mrs. Lois Allen, the Upper Arlington High School Orchestra enjoyed one of its most outstanding years. Its successful season was highlighted by the ninth Annual Spring Concert held on April 22.

The orchestra was well represented at the Ohio Regional Orchestra in Chillicothe by the following members: Bill Cook, Kay Kauer, Harriet Hull, Sonja Wahl, and Jim Marcia. Kay and Sonja were selected to play in the All-State Orchestra held at Cleveland on February 22. Representing the orchestra, Kay Kauer, violinist, entered the district O.M.E.A. Contest at Capital University.

In April, several members of the orchestra were given the opportunity of playing under the direction of a representative of Fred Waring in the Waring Festival held at Upper Arlington High School.

Fourth row: Hardy, Long, Wollam, Crockett, McNamee, Wilder, Wilcox, Kelsik, Wagner, Reber, Reiber, Rattan, Sandel, Fitzsimmons, Joseph, Zimmer, Glenn, Learey, Heering, Muench, Lieser, Campbell, Gerould, Miller, Jameson.

Fifth row: Greene, McWilliams, Berwanger, Adams, Poffenberger, Moffet, Gibson, Kobert, Glander, Masters, Markwood, Garwick, Sipp, Dennis, Jenkins, Parsons, Fitzgerald, Boswell, Daniels, Griner, Rienheart, Turvey, Huhta, Fergus, Pettegrew, Setterlin, Prior, second semester members: Workman, Haddad.

Vocal Music

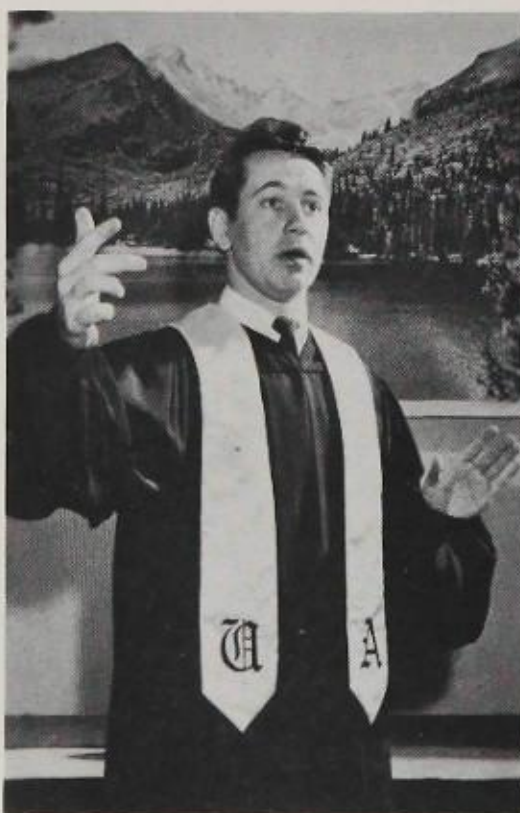

The lyric melodies heard through the halls daily during fourth period testify both to the hard work and the accomplishment of the senior concert choir under the direction of Mr. Herbert S. Yenser.

Early in the school year, the choir was honored by being invited to perform for the Central Ohio Teachers Association at the Coliseum.

At Christmas-time, the audience at the P. T. A. Music Concert heard "The Night Before Christmas", "The Song of Christmas", and many of the well-known Christmas carols.

Long before the O. M. E. A. District Contest in March, the choir worked faithfully on two selections: "O, Gentle Moon" and "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God". These were presented at Central High School on March 19. The choir received a superior rating and went on to the State Contest. The choir was awarded a superior rating and received many favorable comments from the judge.

Hazel Neisser and Helen Buchanan, Accompanists.

Mr. Herbert Yenser, director.

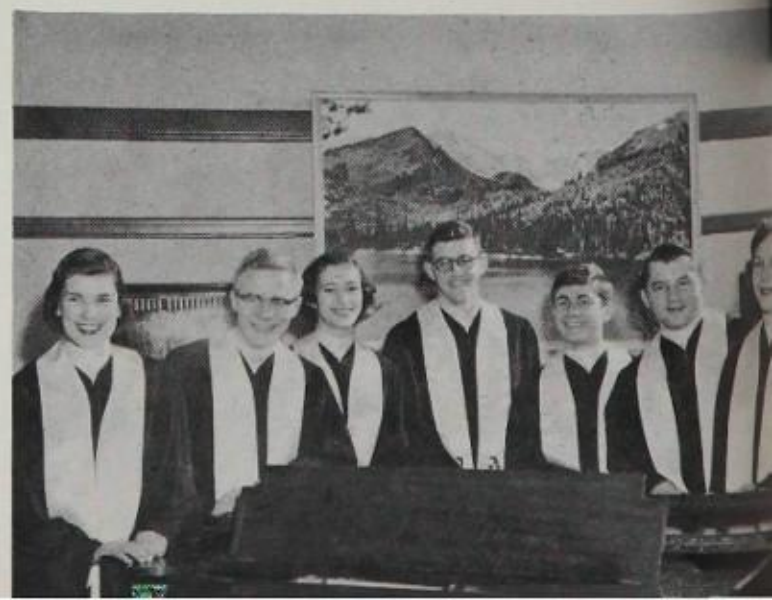

A trip around the world later in March was the talk of the whole choir. Visting such places as Italy, France, Scotland, and South America proved very interesting and exciting to the members of the tour. The really unusual aspect of this trip was that it took place in our own auditorium, for the theme of the 1955 "Kontinental Kapers" was a musical trip around the world.

Other choir activities included a Choir Festival and a trip to Fostoria, Ohio. In April the choir sponsored the pianist, George Haddad, and the Annual Spring Choral Festival.

In addition to the able leadership of Mr. Yenser, the choir also had the benefit of the instruction of Mrs. Lois Allen, formerly a substitute at North High School.

The formation of a boys' and a girls' glee club gave many students not in choir an opportunity to sing under the capable baton of Mr. Yenser.

Phyllis Shirkey, social co-chairman; Dave Fergus, boys' treasurer; Bev Goold, girls' treasurer; Dave Parsons, president; Kim Kelsik, vice-president; Ralph Setterlin, social co-chairman; Margo Fodor, secretary.

On April 28 and 29, "Time Out for Ginger" was presented by the senior class. Judy Beck and Bill Lawson portrayed the parents of a fourteen-year-old tomboy, enacted by Jean Davidson. The cast was under the direction of Mr. Lance Shreffler.

On November 19 and 20 the Dramatics Club produced three one-act plays---"Dial Meridain 7-1212," "Going Home," and "To the Lovely Margaret," which placed first in the district competition and tenth in the state competition.

As its contribution to dramatics, the junior class presented an unusual play, "The Night of January Sixteenth," on March 11. This court-room drama was a murder trial with Ronald Smith, Richard Lee, Nancy Johnson, and Evelyn Silbernagel enacting the leading roles. Mrs. Wilma Gary supervised the production.

Members of the cast of the junior class play---Bill Hadley, Evie Silbernagel, Richard Lee, and Danny Duncan.

More than eighty candidates, each of them aspiring to one of the forty-three varsity football team positions, reported to the athletic field for their first football practice on August 20, 1954. Twelve weeks later the select forty-three ended the season with a record of four victories and five defeats. Dale Rose again guided the team as head coach, with the assistance of Tom Elliott, who coached the line, and Mike Kish, the backfield coach.

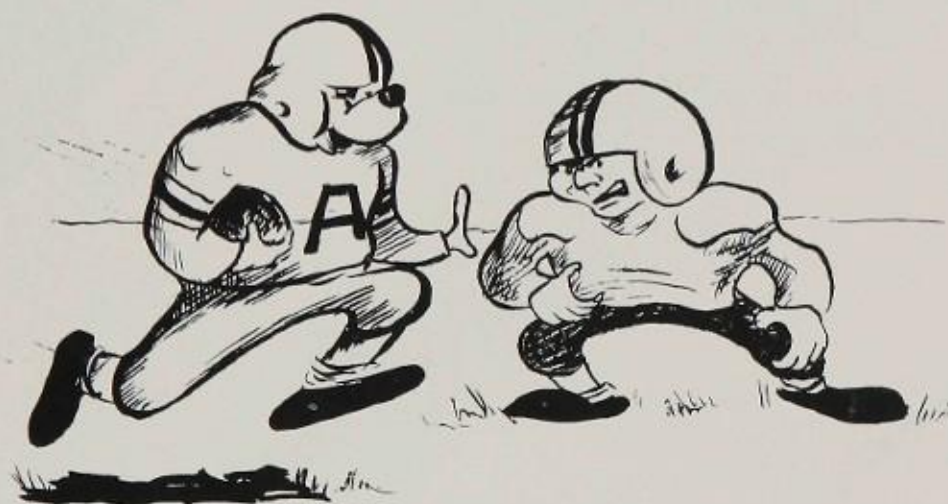

The season started on a good note, September 10, when Arlington scored the only touchdown in the four-team preview with Grandview, North, and West. A week later Chuck Greene kept the victory flag flying as he tallied the winning touchdown in a 13-6 triumph over South High. He reached pay-dirt, breaking a 7-7 tie, with only 35 seconds left in the game.

Losing to Columbus West, 16-6, the Golden Bears started into a period of famine in which they lost four straight games. The Cowboys opened with a safety and a touchdown in the first quarter, whereas Upper Arlington scored only once all evening. That one touchdown was to be the only one for three weeks, too, because the Bears suffered successive shutouts to St. Charles and Bexley in their next two encounters.

Only twice did U. A. reach as far as the St. Charles 35-yard line while they lost to the Cardinals by three touchdowns, 18-0. Jeanne Shaffer and her court reigned over Homecoming proceedings the following week when the Bears again lost by three touchdowns, 20-0 to Bexley.

Signs of better things to come appeared the following week, though, as Arlington held highly favored Urbana to a two-touchdown victory, 25-12. Phil Markwood ran for one Arlington touchdown, and Eddie Mead passed to Dave Parsons for the other.

The flag of triumph finally rose to the heights again October 22 when the Golden Bears exploded with a 26-0 win over Mt. Vernon. It rose even higher a week later as the Bears knocked Delaware's Panthers out of first place in the Central Buckeye League.

Pres Harris ran for a touchdown and Eddie Mead kicked the important extra point in the 7-6 triumph over the Panthers.

Ralph Setterlin streaked 70 yards with an intercepted pass to score the only touchdown in the Golden Bears' 6-0 victory over Grove City in a mud-spattered game, November 4.

Then followed the annual season finale with Grandview. Although Arlington's gridders fought hard, they were unable to win. The Bobcats came out on top, 13-0.

Fifteen seniors, including co-captains Jack Prior and Ralph Setterlin, received their last high-school football awards at the Booster Club's banquet, November 16. Fred "Curly" Morrison, who was a star on Upper Arlington's championship team in 1944, was the principal speaker. The presentation of the first Most Valuable Player award to Dave "Preacher" Parsons was one of the evening's highlights. Co-captains Ralph Setterlin and Jack Prior climaxed the banquet proceedings with the announcement that Joe Berwanger and Dick Sebastian would captain the 1955 team.

The 1954 football season, like life, was full of joys and sorrows, but everyone on the team will remember it fondly, for the 1954 season taught many lessons in teamwork and in sportsmanship.

RESERVES

The Reserve football team coached by Mike Kish, also enjoyed a successful season. Four victories, a loss and a tie appeared on the Bear Cubs' final record.

Starting off on the right foot, the Reserves earned one-touchdown victories over South and West, beating the Bulldogs 7-0 and the Cowboys 7-0. A hard-fought game with Newark came next, resulting in a 13-13 tie.

Following the Varsity's 26-0 victory over Mt. Vernon, the Reserves followed suit with a 31-6 triumph over the Yellowjacket reserves. The Cubs also defeated St. Charles, 22-12, before losing their final game to Grandview, 20-0.

BASKETBALL

Three returning senior lettermen — Captain Bill Lawson, Dave "Preach" Parsons, and Ed Mead — formed the backbone of the 1954-1955 basketball team. A fourth senior, Chip Huhta, two juniors — Howdy Freeland and Bob McWilliams, and five sophomores — Jack Nicklaus, Dave Locey, Bob Butler, Dick Slater, and Bill Cook — completed the team's lineup.

Two notable injuries contributed much to a streak of misfortunes which included a season record of four wins and fifteen losses. On February 1, Chip Huhta slipped a disc in his spine and was forced to remain out of the lineup the rest of the season. "Stretch" Slater suffered severe chemical burns which kept him out of play for three weeks.

Making their annual out-of-state journey to Huntington, West Virginia, Upper Arlington's cagers ran into the Huntington Pony Express' fast break combination. The Golden Bears returned for the Christmas holidays stunned by an 83-56 defeat.

"Happy New Year!" was the theme as Arlington opened the new year of 1955 with a 57-53 triumph over Delaware Willis. The theme changed, though, when the Bears launched a nine-game losing streak the following week with a 68-51 loss to the Grandview Bobcats. Bill Cook's 16 points were instrumental in the win over Delaware.

Worthington recorded its second victory over the Bears 58-54 before the Bears completed the first round of Central Buckeye League play with Bexley. The Blue Lions, destined to become league champions, ran up a 72-60 win over the Bruins. At that time, though, it was still anybody's league, with only one game separating the first and last-place teams.

Returning to league competition again, Upper Arlington suffered losses to Urbana and Mt. Vernon. The Hillclimbers won their second game from the Bears 70-59, and Mt. Vernon gained revenge for its one-point first round loss with an 85-53 thumping of the Bears.

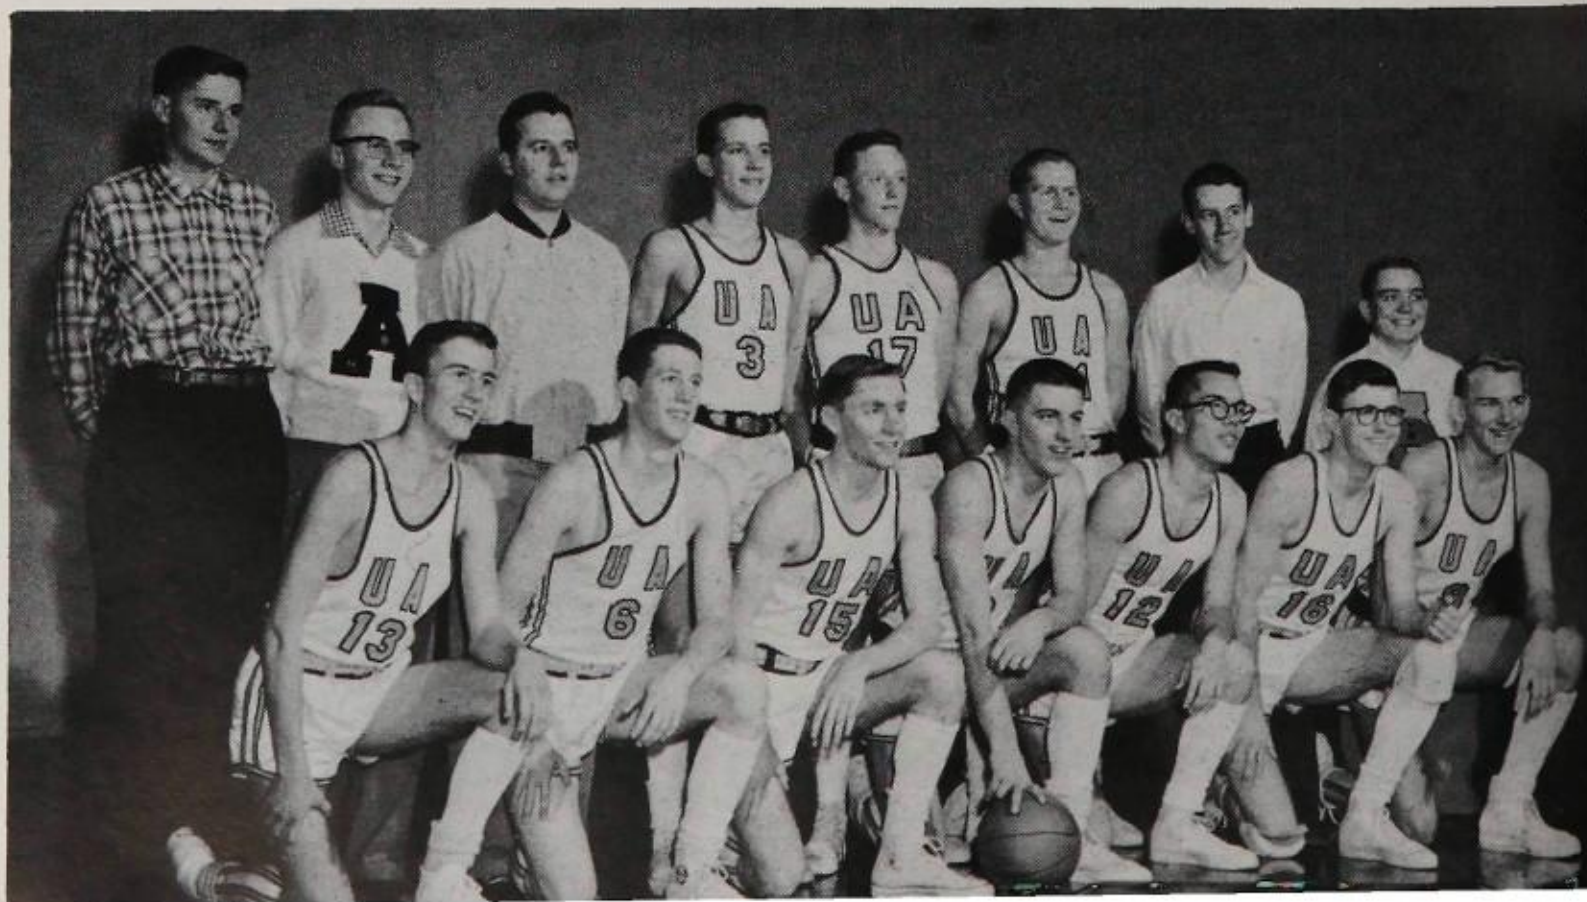

St. Charles and Delaware Willis applied two more defeats to the Bears as they entered the February home stretch. St. Charles won a non-league game 71-59 and the Willis Panthers came out on the long end of an 85-76 scoring duel.

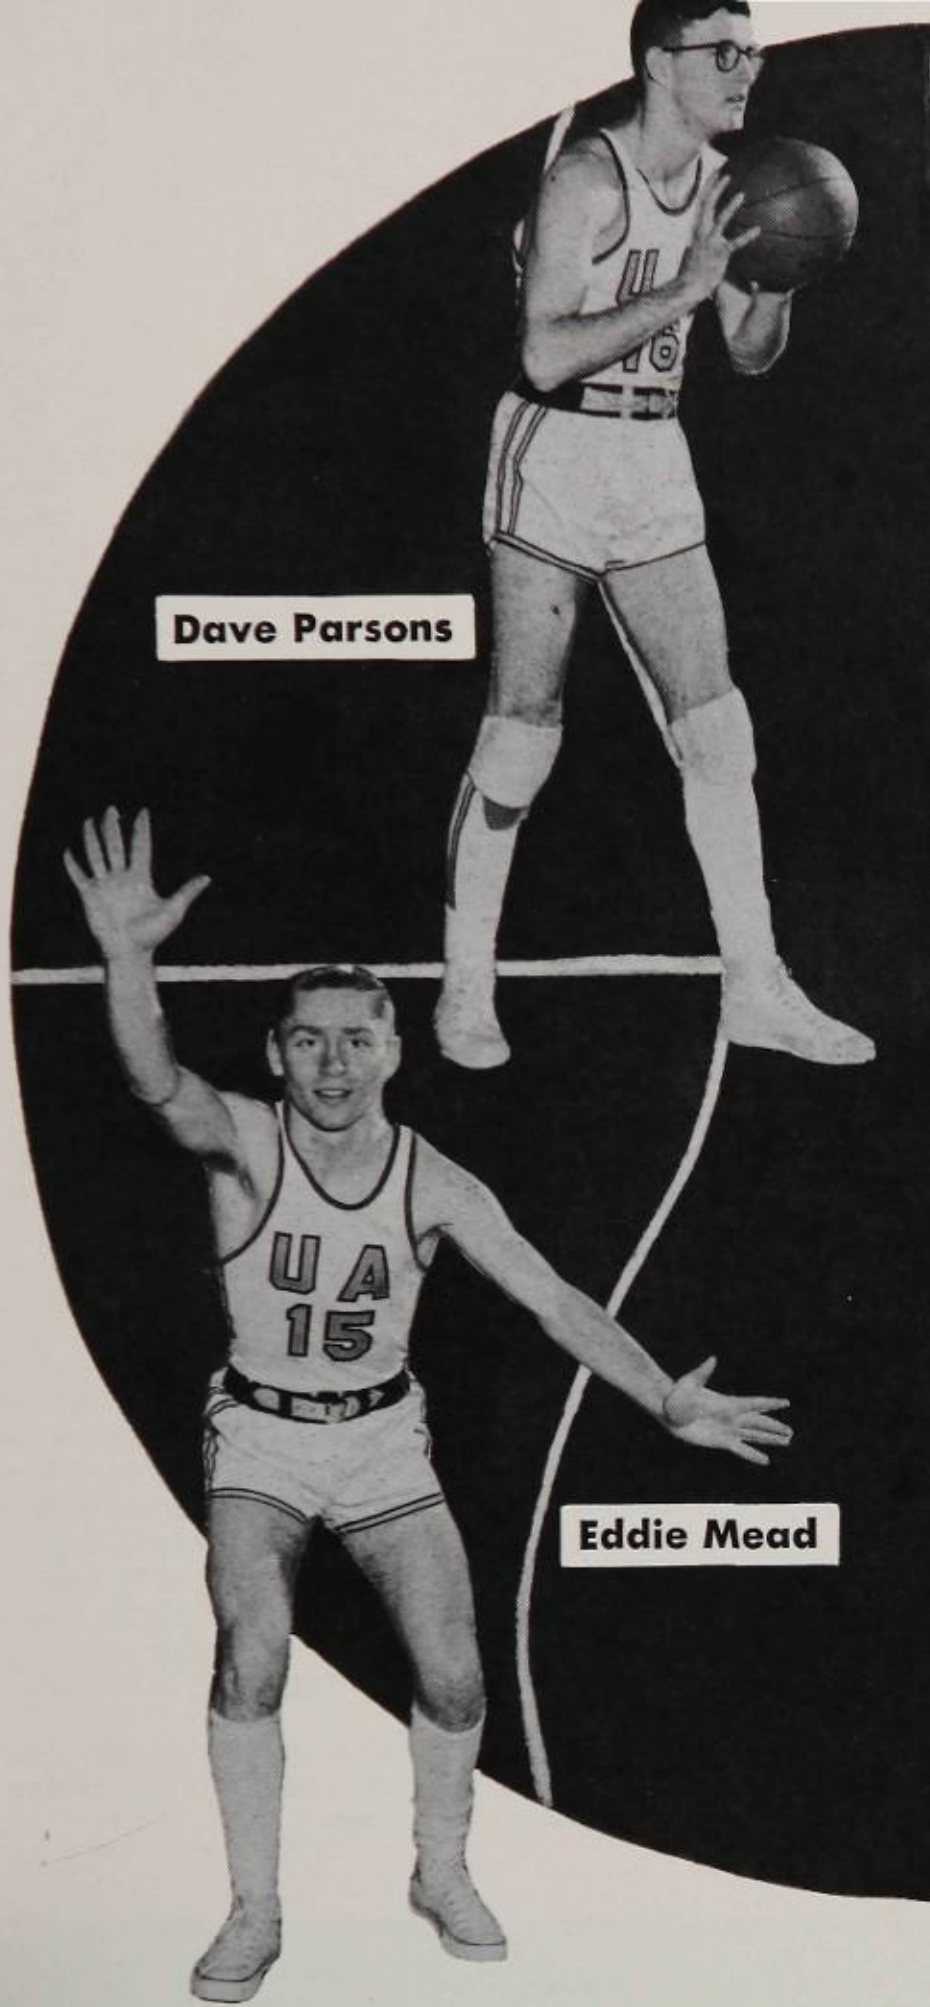

"Victory is sweet!" thought the Golden Bears after they broke their nine-game losing streak with a 73-66 win over Grandview. Bill Cook scored 31 points for the Bears to become the first Golden Bear to top 30 points in a game since Frank Edwards tallied 46 against Columbus Academy in 1951.

Scrapping to clinch the Central Buckeye League championship, Bexley ran up an 83-65 victory over the Bears in the last regularly scheduled game of the season.

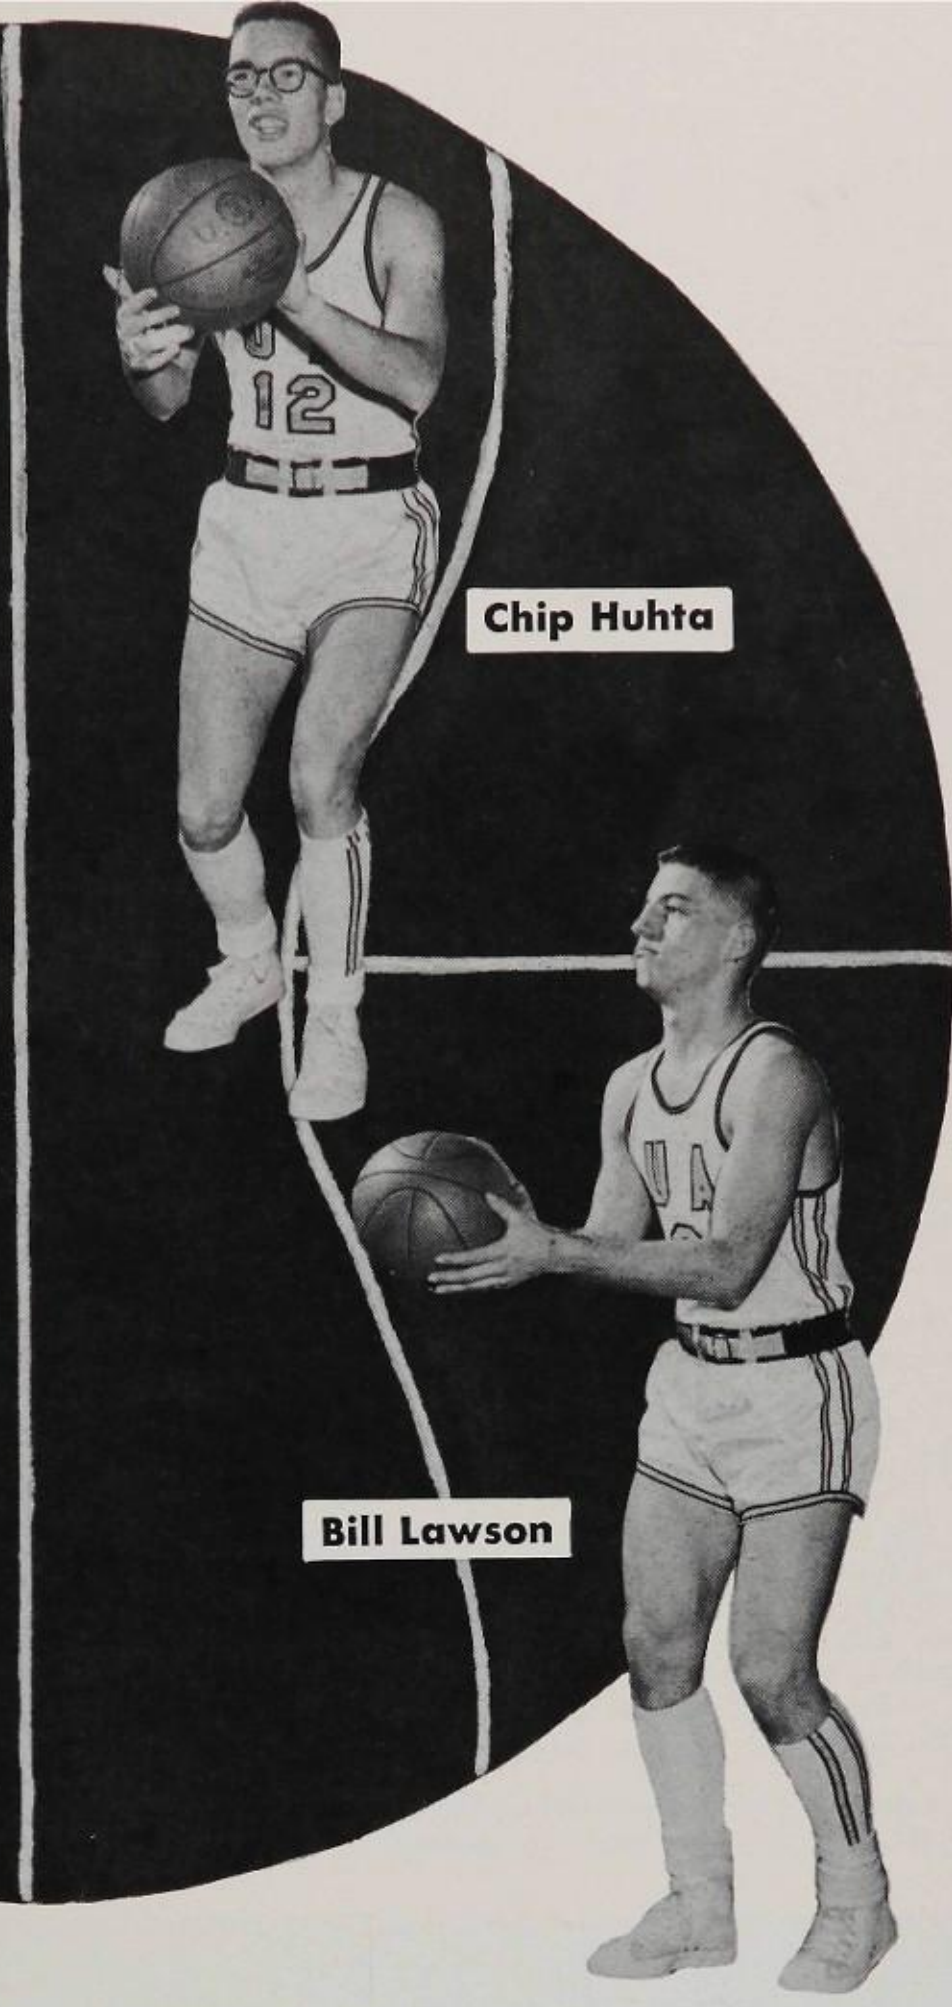

Arlington met Worthington for the third time of the season when the two teams met in the first round of the Central District tournament, March 2. The Cardinals, champions of the Mid-Six League, earned victory number three over the Bruins by a score of 63-49.

Although with a 4-15 record one could not very well call the season successful from a won-lost standpoint, the season was profitable in that the many underclassmen on the 1955 cage team gained basketball experience that should be of great service in seasons to come. The seniors of '55 wish the best for Captain-elect Bob McWilliams and the 1956 team.

RESERVE BASKETBALL

One of the scrappiest groups of boys to don the Gold and Black this year was the reserve basketball team. Plagued by inexperience, the cagers, nevertheless, played good ball and had a commendable record for the year.

Coached by Mr. Steve Nesha, the team consisted of Jim Dennis and Jim Blyth, juniors; Dave Peterson, Jim Sharer, Jim Nicklaus, and Dana Pratt, sophomores; and Lyle Pettit, Lee Hanna, John Jenkins, Ted Ongaro, Dale Wade, Ned Crockett, and Phil Wilcox, freshmen.

The Baby Bears started the season off by losing a hard-fought game to North by the score of 40-23. The next outing brought the reserves their first victory of the season — 47-25 over Granville. The next week, in their first league encounter, the Bears dropped a close one to Urbana, 36-25. In their next game, the team hit the winning column again by downing Mt. Vernon, 40-28, for their first league victory.

After the Christmas vacation, the Bruins lost to Delaware, 35-30; but the next week on successive nights, the rapidly improving squad downed Grandview, 39-25, and Worthington, 31-21. On their home court the following week, the reserves lost a close, hard-fought ball game to the Bexley Lions by the score of 43-42. Before the Huntington game, a team composed of juniors and sophomores defeated the freshmen, 42-32.

Taking time out from league action, the Baby Bears journeyed to Linden McKinley and came home on the long end of a 36-34 ball game. Resuming league warfare, the team lost to Urbana 35-30 but downed Mt. Vernon, 42-40. St. Charles visited the Bears' home court and handed them a 46-36 defeat, but the Bears got back on the winning trail by trouncing Delaware 52-35. Closing out the season, the squad lost close ball games to Grandview, 43-38, and to Bexley, 50-40. The Cubs ended the season with seven wins and nine losses, and were 4-6 in the CBL.

It is expected that the experience gained on this year's team will prove invaluable and many of the boys, no doubt, will move up to the varsity next year.

SWIMMING

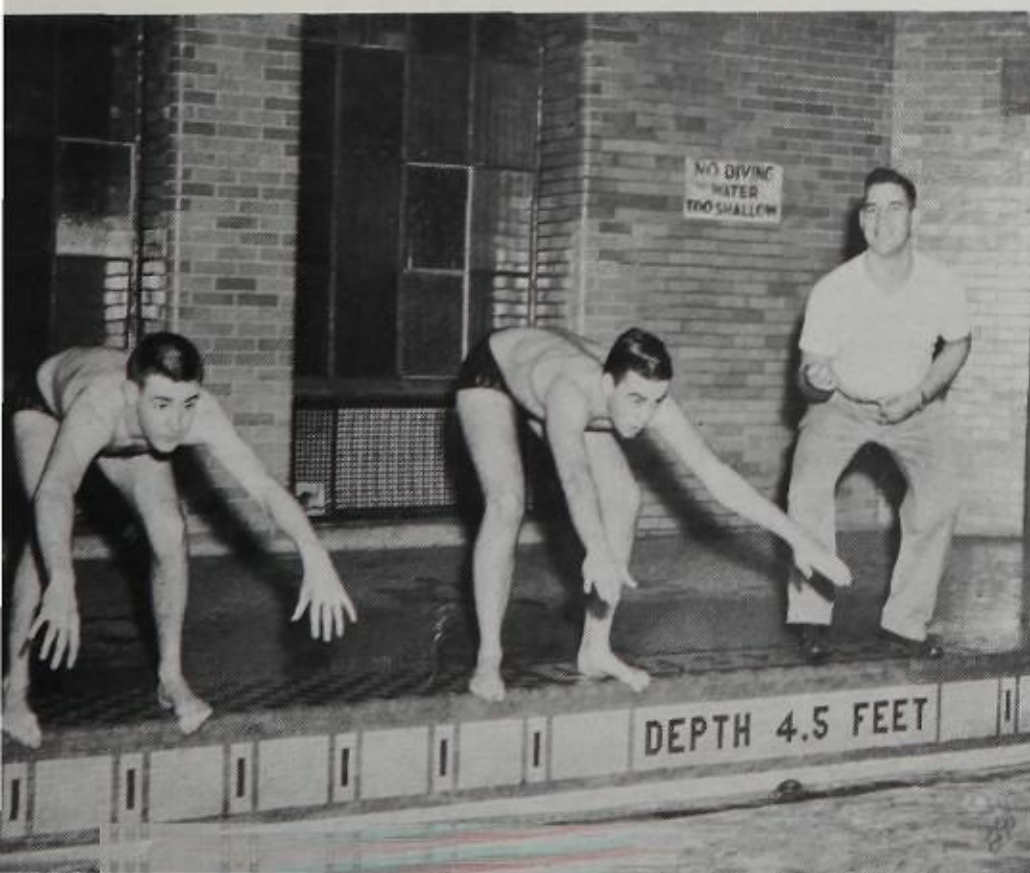

The Upper Arlington swimming team had a very successful season this year. The team progressed under the excellent coaching of Mr. Tom Elliot and was spurred on by their co-captains, Jim Sipp and Jim Cuppy.

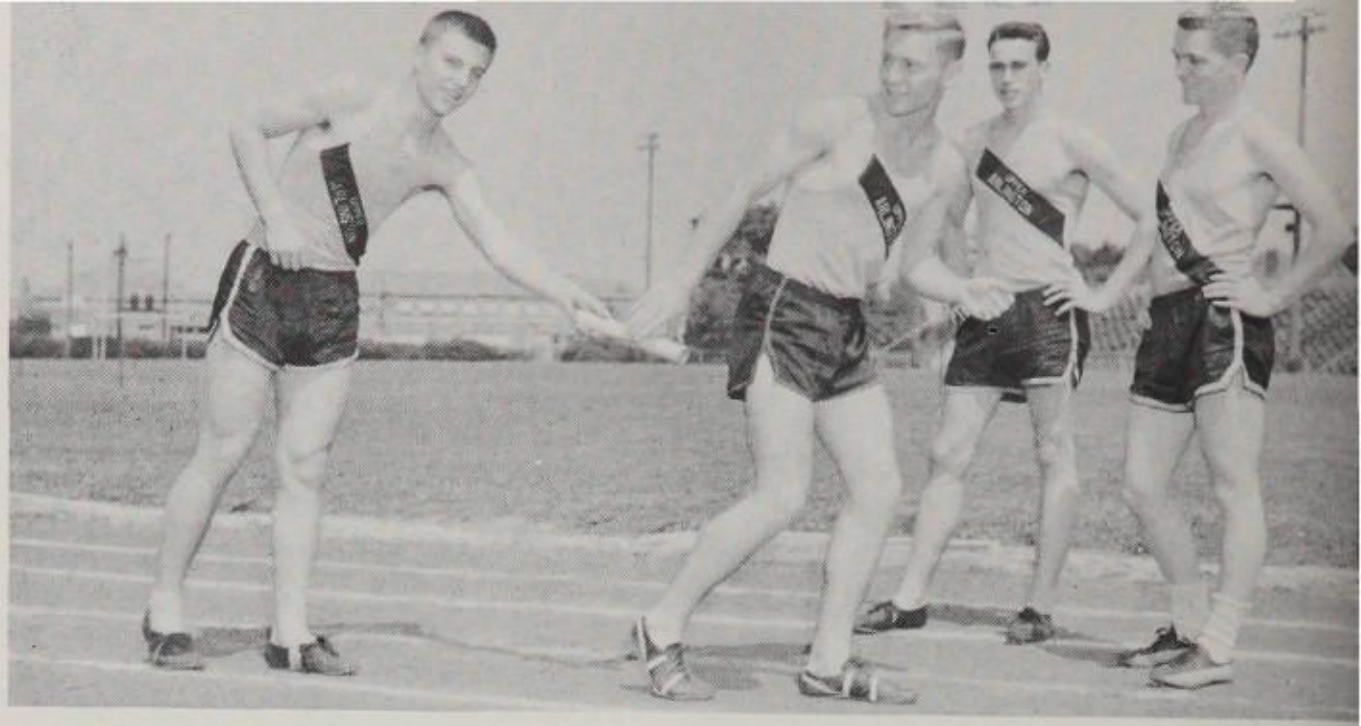

Out of five dual competition meets Upper Arlington came through with a 5-0 record. By defeating Grandview, the swimming team earned the Northwest Division Title; they later won the Greater Columbus Championship title.

Competing in the state meets, Upper Arlington placed in three events. Jim Sipp, Alan Teegardin, Ricky Von Haam placed fifth in the fifty-yard free style race, and Bill Reiber was sixth in the two-hundred-yard free style race.

The junior lettermen are Tom Jones, Allan Quigley, Dave Jones, Marty Stuart, and Tom Byall. Allan Quigley and Dave Jones will be next year's co-captains. The sophomores who earned letters are Ricky Von Haam, Bill Reiber, Bob Young, and Jack Saeger. The freshmen are Artie Wolfe, Steve Guthrie, Bob Dotts, and Ronnie Jones.

John Joseph, Bill Masters, Danny Duncan, Joe Berwanger, Dick Sebastian, Bob Ulrich (manager).

TRACK

As is usually the case, when the Upper Arlington High School track squad took to the cinders on March 1, 1955, they were besieged with wet shoes and cold winds. However, hearts were warm because the "55" thinclads, captained by Dave Guthrie and strengthened by returning lettermen Chuck Collins, Lewis Dulin, Dave Guthrie, Bill Lawson, Phil Markwood, Bruce Nelson, Jack Prior, Dick Sebastian, and Ralph Setterlin, looked as if it could shape up to be one of the best in recent years. The addition of Mr. Ray Moyer as assistant to Coach Richard Larkin also helped to brighten the picture.

Several new boys who played an important role in making the "55" season a success were Danny Duncan, returning to U. A. from Mansfield, Ed Mead, a changeover from baseball, Ed Uhl of Cleveland, and Tom Coghill. A fine crop of sophomores including Bob Kincaid, Paul Nitschke, John O'Morrow, Ed Shaffer, Tom Schooley, Ronnie Stone, Seigfried Storz, Rick Von Haam, Bob Wandel, and Louie Wilcox who, although they were not entered regularly in the meets, gave the squad invaluable depths.

As to outstanding performances, the 880 and mile relay teams looked as though they could be formidable in any competitions.

As usual Coach "Larks" put a well-balanced schedule before the team members; and with this experience before them, it looked as if the Bears had a very fine chance of bringing the C. B. L. championship in track back to U. A. this year.

Dick and Coach Stumbo.

Although there were only three returning lettermen on the 1955 tennis team, Arlington anticipated a winning season. The only veterans on this year's squad were Captain Dick Turner, Jim Cuppy, and Dave Root. Such a shortage of experienced netters left seven openings on the team; therefore, early in April a tournament was held to determine which of the sixteen novices would fill these seven openings. As a result of the tournament, Tom Wessels, Dave Peterson, Roger Heering, Jim Sharer, Bill Hadley, Paul Gilmore, and Don Gehlbach made the team.

In the singles positions were Dick Turner, Jim Cuppy, and Dave Root. Some of the larger schools have five singles; in these cases Dave Peterson and Roger Heering also played singles matches. The doubles assignments were covered by Dave Peterson and Roger Heering in the first spot and Tom Wessels and Jim Sharer in the second spot.

The new coach, Mr. Hugh Stumbo, arranged an excellent schedule including trips to Mansfield and Springfield, which will be remembered as the highlights of the season. The schedule closed with the district tournament at Ohio State University.

GOLF

Standing: Dave Arthurs, Roger Holstein, Brant Larrimer, John Jenkins, Jim Dennis, Jon Blyth, Jim Hopkins, Tim Cochran, Bill Kern, Harry Brown, Lowell Caldwell, Coach Bill Thomas.

Faced with the necessity of upholding a won-lost record of 33-1 compiled in the last two years, Upper Arlington's golf team began practice early in March. The boys showed fine form early in the season and increased their winning record with victories over Worthington (15-1), Mt. Vernon (16-0), Bexley (16-0), Hilliards (13-3), and Urbana (15-1).

The linksmen were chosen for their position on the team by the "ladder" system. The first four men are the ones who compete in matches. The playing team was made up of Captain Jack Nicklaus, Roger Holstein, Jon Blyth, Bill Kern, and Jim Dennis. Jack Nicklaus turned in fine performances all year, shooting consistently in the low or middle 70's.

Some extra-curricular activities of the golf team included the City Playoff, the District and State competitions, (all played at University Course), and also an Invitational Tournament held at Springfield, Ohio.

According to Coach Bill Thomas, the future looks very bright indeed for Upper Arlington's golf team as only one member of the entire team of twenty-two will be lost by graduation next year. All members of this year's playing squad will return next season for what they hope will be as impressive as this year's.

CROSS COUNTRY

Having the best record for an Upper Arlington Cross Country team was the accomplishment of this year's team. The Bears split eight meets and placed fifth in the district cross country meet.

The team consisted of seniors Tom Williams, Bill Daniels, and Chip Huhta (captain); juniors Bob Cummins, Bill Dawson, Pete Hunziker, Bill Kern, Alan Prasuhn, Kenny Deeds, Bill Denzel, Wyman Haskins, Berge Juskalian, Berry Wear, and Jim Wraith; sophomores Dick Gaup, Brant Larrimer, John O'Morrow, David Peterson, Ronnie Stone, and Bob Wandel; and freshman Dave Stevens. These 21 boys were under the able leadership of Coach R. A. Larkin.

The runners opened the season by defeating Newark at Newark, Ohio. Tom Williams exhibited mid-season form as he won the two-mile jaunt easily.

The Bears opened the home season at Beacon Light Golf Course where East and West handed the thin-clads their first defeat in a triangular meet. Williams again finished first for the Bears, followed by Wyman Haskins and Bill Daniels.

With Williams winning his second race of the season, the Bears outran Central at Northam Park. Arlington then ran at University Golf Course against Worthington, a match which Worthington won. Wyman Haskins ran his best of the year as he won the race. Tom Williams and Bill Daniels followed Haskins in that order.

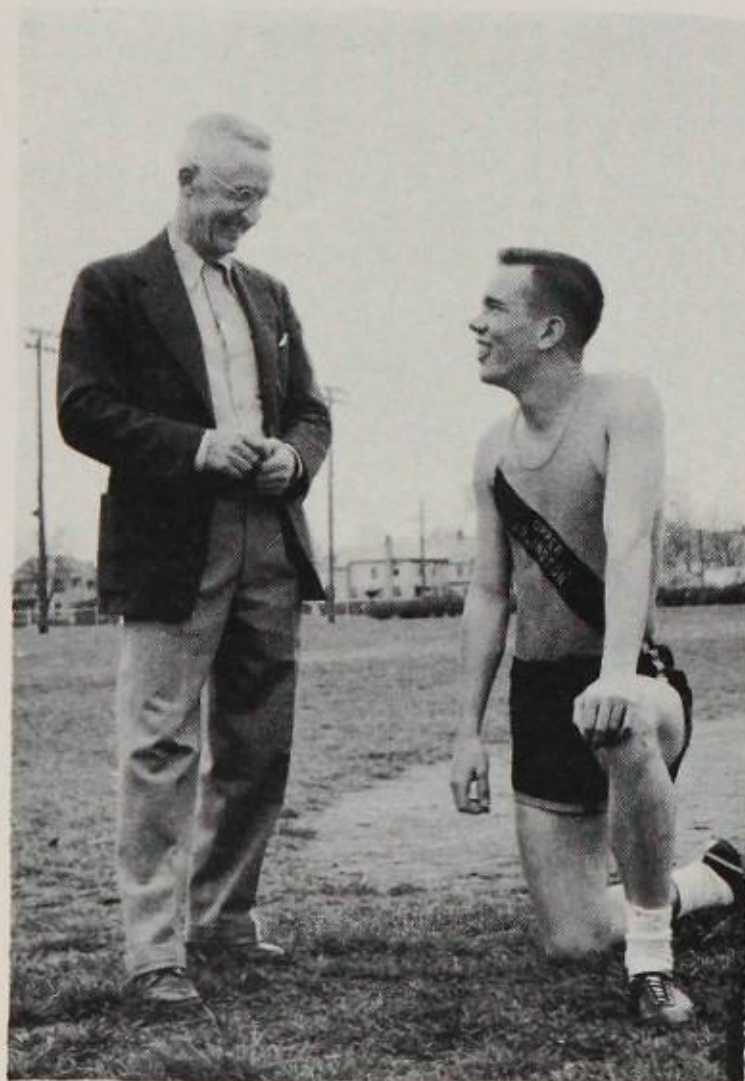

Springfield visited the Bears at Beacon Light and handed us our third defeat. The race was run in the rain and mud and Tom Williams placed first again for the Bears.

The harriers evened the slate against South where Tom Williams won the race; Chip Huhta, Wyman Haskins, and Bill Daniels finished third, fourth, and fifth respectively.

The Bears then traveled to Marion where they were defeated. In a return meet with Newark the Bears once again emerged victorious.

At the Central District Cross Country Meet, Tom Williams finished twenty-first to lead the Bears to a fifth place in the meet.

At the fall sports banquet Wyman Haskins was elected captain for the 1955 cross country season.

The Girls' Athletic Association, the largest club for girls in the high school, is open to any girl in grades nine through twelve who is interested in promoting girls' sports. The sports that G.A.A. urges the girls to participate in include hockey, basketball, golf, softball, tennis, and archery.

The officers for 1954-55 were Lisa Von Haam, president; Jo Ann Baker, vice-president; Betsy Schwartz, secretary; Jenneybelle Rardin, treasurer; Jeanne Davidson, social chairman; Tammy Milburn, publicity chairman. Carolyn Baker was sports chairman this year. Each specific sport was headed by one girl whose job was to arrange for practices and games with other schools. These sport heads were Nancy Devroude, hockey; Joan McCullough, basketball; Diane Deis, swimming; Virginia Harrison, bowling; Marty Clark, volleyball; Sue Newman, golf; Judy Daugherty, baseball; Joan Albin, tennis; and Jane Springsteen, archery. Miss Shirley Chick, girls' physical education teacher, capably sponsored the organization and contributed greatly to this year's success.

G.A.A. opened its 1954-55 season with hockey, one of the two major sports. Since there was such a large turn-out for the hockey team this year, try-outs were held. Although the competition was stiff, the hockey team, consisting of twenty-eight girls, was finally announced. There were a varsity team and a reserve team; the girls were put on their respective teams because of their ability and not because of their age. The hockey team experienced great success this year, losing only one out of six games and tying one game. The varsity hockey team was defeated in its first game of the season by Grandview by a score of 3-1. However, this defeat was just a bad start of a successful season, for the team succeeded in defeating Worthington, 2-0, St. Mary's 3-0, C.S.G. 4-2, and tied Central 1-1. The team ended the season with the defeat of its long-standing rival, Bexley, 2-0. As a climax to this successful season, the girls played the traditional intramural games. The seniors first played the sophomores, defeating them 5-0. The juniors defeated the freshmen 3-1. The seniors emerged as the victors after an exciting game with the juniors, in which there was a thirty-minute overtime, by a score of 2-1.

Basketball enjoyed another successful season. Again try-outs for the teams were held, since more than one hundred fifty girls came out for the sport. The basketball team held an undefeated, untied record this year. The Reserves were defeated by University in an overtime, which was one of their two defeats of the season. The high-scoring game was that game with Linden, in which the score was 38-4. Intramural Night, March 1, climaxed the basketball season. Defeating the juniors by a score of 26-13, the seniors again were the champions. The freshmen were runners-up, since they beat the sophomores 7-10. The class teams traditionally dressed in costumes.

The seniors were dressed as the "Senior Sleepers," decked in nightgowns, while the juniors were dressed as the "Junior Jets."

Projects for this year included buying blue and gray sweatshirts for the teams. The girls wore the color of knee socks to match their sweatshirts. Four large bake-sales were also held to raise money for the Spring Banquet.

The annual G.A.A. Spring Banquet was held on May 19 in the Barrington Road Building at which letters and awards were made and next year's officers were announced, thus concluding the year.

Delma
Best of Luck Always.
I could say loads of things about you because we have had loads of fun but they shouldn't be written. Have lots of fun in Sr. yr.
Love ya Mom
Dad

Delma,
I hope you will have a lot of good times in your next two years at Arlington. You're a real sharp friend.
Remember me!

My dear Mr. Garrison
I have just received your letter of the 11th inst.
and am glad to hear that you are still interested in the cause of the colored people.
I am sure that your efforts will be successful in bringing about the desired result.
I am, dear Sir,
very respectfully,
Yours for the cause,
Wm. Lloyd Garrison
